OIL DISCOVERY ON PENINSULA.

Rich Find is Reported on Island in the Gulf of California.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Discovery of rich oil deposits on the Isle of Angel de la Guerda, in the Gulf of California, and extending to the mainland of Lower California, is announced tonight in official Mexican dispatches received here. A government commission appointed to explore the region has reported that the field is so extensive as to promise to equal anything of the kind in Mexico.

Dixie and the thousands of men who are liable to the draft, but who are hiding in the swamps, is a positive shriek against the valor of the South.

THE DEEP CUT.

Generally speaking, the government is finding that many generations of soft, luxurious living, late hours, cigarettes and booze and social diseases have cut deeply into the available manhood of the nation. The claims for exemption by those who passed the requirements also show that the youth of the United States finds it difficult to break away from the dance halls and poolrooms long enough to maintain their country's rights.

Let it be said right now, that this does not include the so-called "idle rich." The "idle rich" have gone into this war with all their might. Scions of families who count their wealth in millions are wearing khaki, doing the hardest kind of work as common soldiers and also contributing freely of their wealth. So far, in all the United States, there has been but one instance of a member of one of the families of great wealth who has claimed exemption, and he has recalled his claim. The frothy soap-box class that is always yelling itself black in the face against the idle rich has not a leg to stand upon in this war.

NO TROOPS TO RUSSIA.

Plan is Opposed by Commission.

Muscovy Already Overrun with Men; Chief Need is Discipline.

To Send an American Army There Might be Detriment to the Cause.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Emphatic disapproval of the suggestion that American troops be sent to the eastern front was brought home by all except one of the members of the American mission to Russia.

It was authoritatively stated tonight that Charles Edward Russell is the only commissioner who believes it desirable to put soldiers from the United States in Russia and that the others are convinced that their presence would be detrimental rather than helpful to the armies of the new democracy. Elihu Root and his associates on the mission lunched with Secretary Lansing today and told him more of their experiences and conclusions. Their written report, submitted to President Wilson yesterday, probably will not be made public.

NEED ORGANIZATION.

Organization and encouragement, and not men, it was explained tonight, are Russia's needs in the opinion of the majority of the commissioners. With 10,000,000 men under arms, they think Russia requires no more soldiers, particularly she does not need a few thousand strange soldiers, speaking an unfamiliar tongue, drawing better pay and eating better food than her own men. As an aid to actual fighting, it was pointed out, the small number of American troops that could be maintained in Russia would be of little or no value.

Lending assistance to the men now in the field, rather than putting more men to drain the already scant supplies, is the duty of this country, the commissioners feel. Rolling stock for the roads to carry supplies and equipment to the native soldiers and the supplies themselves are the real requirements and they will grow. Both Russian and Rumanian forces will need supplies and equipment worse next winter than they do today and, of course, the transportation problems then will be greater, also.

TO OFFSET GERMANS.

Of the greatest importance, the commissioners say, is constant encouragement from citizens and the newspapers of the United States. Anti-American propagandists, headed by former residents of this country and now financed by German money, are seeking to paint Americans in the blackest shade and thus discourage Russians from accepting their good offices.

The story of the origin of this extraordinary propaganda is vouched for by every member of the commission. Shortly after the outbreak of the revolution, it is declared, the propagandists, composed chiefly of Socialists favorable to abolishing all present forms of government and establishing without delay rule by the brotherhood of man, returned to their native land and began berating the United States and its people. Germans, quick to see the advantage of controlling these agitators, began supplying them with money, and today, flush with wealth, they are going through Russia spreading the most vicious canards.

ORIGIN OF AGITATORS.

One of the commissioners, discussing these men tonight, said he could only explain their attitude before coming into German money by their never having become an integral part of the United States citizenry.

Many of them, it is understood, lived in the congested foreign sections of New York and seldom came in contact with American citizens.

While the propagandists' efforts are being discounted now that Russia is becoming better organized, they have instilled dangerous seeds in the simple minds of many Russians.

The returned commissioners speak of the people of the newly-formed democracy with tenderness and charity. They are seeking to drive home to government officials and others who talk with them the great need of Uncle Sam's guiding hand for the child among nations, that finds itself turned loose for the first time to walk in the highways of the world. The sunlight of liberty dazzles its eyes and drunkens it, they declare, and if this country does not intervene, Germany will lure the child away.

GOOD ORDER IN STREETS.

Conditions in Russia, different commissioners in informal talks declared, are not as bad as might be expected. As good order prevails in the streets as could be expected under any government; the Workmen's Council is conducted with much the same decorum as other legislative bodies, and the workingmen and other people are planning for the future with wisdom and determination.

The greatest governmental need now is perhaps some form of local control which will be of free movement and workable. The commissioners found upon arrival in Russia that many committees were gov-

ARTILLERY DUEL RAGES; NEW OFFENSIVE COMING.

Engagement in Flanders is Increasing in Intensity, so that Infantry is Expected Shortly to Make New Drive on German Lines—Russians Have Checked Austrians in Galicia.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

IN ITS review of the war dispatches for the past twenty-four hours the Associated Press says:

On none of the battle fronts of Europe has the fighting activity of the last twenty-four hours been marked. In Flanders, however, the great artillery battle continues most violently, seemingly preparing the way for further heavy infantry activity.

The only infantry engagement in Flanders has taken place on the line between Ypres and Dixmude, with the French troops the aggressors in both instances. Northwest of Bixschoote the French have enlarged further the gains made on Wednesday. Southwest of Bixschoote, in the region south of Langemarck, the French have made some progress into the German line.

TERRAIN CONDITIONS.

Terrain conditions in Flanders, made more difficult by the rains of the last ten days, are such that, without the destruction of enemy defenses by artillery fire, it is nearly useless to throw forward infantry attacks. There are indications that the Anglo-French guns of all calibers are engaged in levelling the German defense positions. The German General Staff reports the artillery fire in Flanders as very great and says it has been especially heavy on the Belgian coast and from Bixschoote to Hollebeke.

"The artillery duel in Flanders has again increased to the greatest intensity, reports the German General Staff. The bombardment was particularly heavy on the Belgian coast and from Bixschoote to Hollebeke.

"The statement of the General Staff says strong forces of Russians and Rumanians endeavored to recapture the ground taken from them north of Fokshani, in Moldavia, but that all the attacks were repulsed with sanguinary losses, and that the number of prisoners taken by the Teutonic allies has been increased to 3200.

FROM ROME.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Aug. 9.—The official statement issued by the Italian War Department today regarding operations on the Austro-Italian front says:

"Yesterday patrol engagements took place along the whole front, the enemy leaving dead on the field and prisoners in our hands.

"The artillery struggle was more brisk at some points of the middle Isonzo and on the Carso.

"In the morning our fliers, persevering in the operations begun on Monday, raided the Chiapovano Valley and by dropping numerous bombs caused new destruction and fires in the military establishments in this locality. A heavy defensive fire reached the machines and hit some of them, but our gallant airmen were able to bring them all back to their bases."

DYNAMITE HOME OF CANADIAN EDITOR.

ANTI-CONSCRIPTIONISTS ARE BLAMED FOR EXPLOSION.

Lord Athelstan, Publisher of the Montreal "Star," and Members of Family Have Narrow Escape When Their Summer Home is Wrecked.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—The summer home at Cartierville of Lord Athelstan, publisher of the Montreal Star, was dynamited last night. Lord Athelstan was in his residence at the time, but was not injured. The house was badly damaged. The Montreal Star has been a warm advocate of conscription.

The evident attempt to take Athelstan's life followed the receipt by the publisher of numerous threatening letters, posted in the United States, warning him that the passage of the Canadian conscription bill would result in his death within ten days, and of other prominent persons in Montreal and Ottawa.

Other members of his family in the house at the time of the explosion were Lady Athelstan, Thomas Graham, his brother, and the Hon. Miss Graham. There were also eight servants. Nobody was hurt.

The explosion, which occurred about 4 a.m., ripped off the balcony of the sleeping quarters and filled the lower rooms with wreckage. It blew a large hole in the lawn. It is thought that five or six sticks were used.

Police investigators link the explosion with the theft recently of dynamite from a quarry and also with a recent threat to kill Senator Beaubien if he voted for conscription, conveyed in a note attached to a stick of dynamite dropped near his house.

The Athelstan residence is six miles from Montreal, where the detonation was plainly heard. Automobile tracks were found leading to within 300 yards of the house, and it was learned that six men were seen to drive rapidly away from the vicinity in a car having no lights about the time of the explosion.

GOVERNOR'S SON TO SEEK EXEMPTION.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 9.—Harold R. Smoot, son of United States Senator Reed Smoot, and Julian Bamberger, son of Gov. Simon Bamberger, were notified today to appear next week for examination for the selective draft. Smoot, although married, claims no exemption. Bamberger, who is unmarried, asks exemption on the ground that as general manager of the local railroad, a position he now holds, he can serve the government better than in the army.

"FILL UP THE RANKS!" PROVOST MARSHAL'S CRY

Conscription Law Imperiled by Men Seeking to Evade Service.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Wholesale claims for exemption from the army draft, reported from many sections, caused Provost-Marshal-General Crowder to telegraph the Governors of the States tonight directing that local boards "reduce discharges for dependency to a far more restricted class, and to very necessitous and clearly-defined circumstances."

In some districts as high as 30 per cent. of the registrants called for examination are filing claims for discharge on the ground of dependent relatives. Such a condition indicates, Gen. Crowder said, that unfair advantage is being taken of the regulations designed to protect men who properly should be exempted from the military service, and actually threatens to interfere seriously with the raising of the national army.

THE MESSAGE.

The message to the Governors follows:

"Section 2 of the selective service law exempts no person from military service on the ground of dependency. It only authorizes the President to exclude or discharge from draft 'those in a status with respect to persons dependent upon them for support, which renders their exclusion or discharge advisable.'

"The controlling necessity is to raise an army. It is advisable to disturb dependents just as little as the necessity of raising an army will permit. To this end section 15 of the regulations was compiled carefully, and after the most earnest consideration. If experience is to prove that the generous conditions prescribed by section 15 or any abuse of them will interfere with the raising of an army, then it is no longer advisable to discharge so wide a class and the conditions stated therein will have to be restricted until an advisable rule is reached.

FEAR OF ABUSE.

"Nothing has happened to change the belief that the persons enumerated in section 15 could be discharged without interfering with the raising of an army, but there are indications that abuses of section 15 may render its continuance no longer advisable.

"Reports are to the effect that in some districts as high as 30 per cent. of persons called before local boards are filing claims for discharge on the ground of dependent relatives. Such a percentage of claims, when viewed in connection with all available statistics, indicates beyond question that advantage is being taken of the provisions of the law and regulations which were intended to reduce to a minimum the misery at home normally attendant upon war.

"There is a moral certainty, in the extravagance of this percentage, that hundreds of unfounded claims are included in these totals.

INCREASES BURDEN.

"This state of affairs greatly increases the burden of local boards, for if so high a percentage of registrants claim exemption only the uncompromising action of local boards can prevent a new regulation on the subject of dependency which shall reduce discharges for dependency to a far more restricted class and to very necessitous and clearly-defined circumstances.

"In the absence of a stern repression by local boards of unmeritorious claims, this result is inevitable, since any such percentage of exemptions as reports of claims indicate would nullify the law and prevent the raising of an army.

"It is thus apparent that the filing of these improper claims will react directly and injuriously on the persons whom the present regulations were designed to protect, and that the welfare of the persons who have filed bona fide claims under the present generous clauses of the regulations, is seriously imperiled by persons who have filed claims without merit, and that the only protection of persons whose cases fall within the meaning of the present rules, lies in the power of the local boards to refuse exemption in every doubtful case.

CASES OF DISCHARGE.

"It is true that cases of discharge on the ground of dependency are appealed to the district board, but this clause is only inserted to secure uniformity of action. District boards are to examine these cases to discover departures from the law, regulations and rulings, and they will not and cannot open every case on its merits. It is in the local boards alone, therefore, that the solution of the difficulty and the protection of deserving claimants lies."

WILSON PEACE TERMS INDORSED BY HARDEN.

Discussions Now Being Conducted in Europe Center on Restoratio nof Alsace-Lorrine to France and Italia Irredenta to Italy—French Indignant at the Idea of a Plebiscite.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 9.—Discussions of probable peace terms now being carried on in Europe largely center as the most certain probabilities upon the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine to France and the cession of Italia Irredenta to Italy. Official dispatches received here today state that Maximilian Harden, the noted German publicist, in the last number of the Zukunft declares that Alsace-Lorraine must be returned to France and Trent and Trieste given to Italy if Europe is to eliminate forever the most probable causes of future controversies and wars.

Harden states also that the new Europe which will emerge from the present war must not find any nationality oppressed, and he concludes by asserting that the declarations of President Wilson concerning the rights of nations must be the basis upon which the peace of the world shall be assured, through some form of confederation of the powers, somewhat like either the American or the Swiss confederation.

FRENCH INDIGNANT.

The proposal from German sources that the question of Alsace-Lorraine be submitted to the determination of a plebiscite of the present inhabitants of those lost provinces has aroused a high pitch of indignation in France, dispatches from Paris received in diplomatic circles here today state. The French press maintains, according to these advices, that France must repossess Alsace-Lorraine for ethnological, geographical and national reasons and because these provinces were wrenched from her by force, but also that Italy must have Italia Irredenta, and that in either instance a plebiscite would be a farce.

The French papers state that the proposal to submit the question of the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine to a plebiscite constitutes another proof that Germany is seeking in every possible way to violate the elementary principles of justice and right.

SUBMARINE SUNK.

The armed guard commander of an American merchantman has reported to the Navy Department that his crew sank a submarine after the Germans had made an unsuccessful attempt to sink the ship. This is the first case in which the crew commander presented enough evidence to satisfy the most incredulous navy officers that the submarine had been actually sunk. The Navy Department has declined to publish details of the report upon the grounds that such publication would result in the death of the crew commander if he should be captured by Germans hereafter. The precise location of the attack and the date are also being withheld so that the Admiralty will remain in the dark for the present at least.

Looking Ahead.

MICHAELIS CONFIDENT OF VICTORIOUS PEACE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 9.—Dr. Michaelis, the German Imperial Chancellor, like Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, has taken to answering messages from the Pan-German League, which is conducting a mass meeting and telegram campaign to crystallize sentiment in favor of demanding annexations and indemnities in the peace conditions.

Replying to the latest pronouncement from a Pan-German mass meeting in Hesse, Dr. Michaelis telegraphed:

"I am firmly confident that the splendid military situation will help us to a peace which will guarantee permanently the German Empire's condition of existence on the continent and overseas."

The message, for which the Chancellor thanked the senders, had expressed confidence that the new Chancellor would bring about a victorious peace and not one of reconciliation.

Final Instructions for New Army Levies to Report for Service Given by Gen. Crowder

Host.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND IN CAMP BY SEPT. 5.

Civilian Boards to Control Men Up to Gates of the Cantonments.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Regulations under which men of the new national army will be called to the colors beginning September 1 were issued tonight by Provost-Marshal-General Crowder. They map out in detail the whole programme to be followed until every soldier of the selective draft army has been accepted by the Adjutant-General of the training cantonment to which he is assigned.

Two hundred thousand of the first 687,000 men will be called up to September 1 and forwarded to their camps before September 5. The whole business of assembling the levies at entraining points, providing them with shelter, food and transportation, and giving them their actual introduction into military life is intrusted to the civilian local boards which selected them for service. Until the men reach the camps they will not be in contact with uniformed officers. The civilian control is carried forward through every stage of the draft to the very gates of the military camps, where the making of soldiers will begin, to be completed within sound of the guns in France.

CALL FOR MEN.

The actual call for men will go in each case from the Provost-Marshal-General to the State Adjutant-General, stating the number of men to be supplied at a specified time by the State. Each local board will be promptly informed of its proportion in the call, and the Adjutant-General will fix the date when men from his State shall entrain for the camps.

Immediately the local board will make out the list of men to fill the call from the roll of accepted men, and it will also fix the place of entrainment and the exact time of departure.

Orders to the men will be posted and also be sent them by mail. They will be directed to report to the local board at its headquarters not less than twelve hours or more than twenty-four hours before the time of departure for camp.

FROM REGULATIONS.

"From the time specified for reporting to the local board for military duty," the regulations state, "each man in respect of whom notice to report has been posted or mailed shall be in the military service of the United States."

Prior to the arrival of the men at the board headquarters, board members are expected to make arrangements for their accommodation, to find clean and sanitary sleeping places at hotels and lodging-houses, to arrange for their meals and to provide lodging and meal tickets to be taken in payment and redeemed for cash later by a government disbursing officer. In its discretion, the board may grant permission for the men to remain at their homes.

Arrived at the board headquarters at the hour fixed for reporting, the men will be drawn up, the roll called, and agents of the board will take them personally to their quarters, remaining with them until every arrangement for their comfort has been made. Emphatic instructions are given that the quality of food furnished shall be good, and the board is held liable for seeing that meals are adequate.

RETREAT ROLL CALL.

Retreat roll call at the board headquarters, set for 5:30 p.m. on the day of reporting to the board, will be the first military ceremony the drafted men pass through. The board members are directed to be present in person and to inform the men of their military status, impressing on them the fact that disobedience of orders is the gravest military crime. The light hand baggage, containing toilet articles and a change of underclothing, which the men are permitted to take with them to camp, will be inspected by the board and the lists of men sent forward mac's out and copies of original registration cards prepared.

For each district five alternates will be summoned to the board headquarters, in addition to the men actually selected to fill the board quota. They will be held at the assembling point until train time to fill in vacancies should any men of the levy fail to report.

GIVEN TOWN LIBERTY.

Except for retreat roll call, the men will be given town liberty until forty-five minutes before train time. The board will, during this interval, select one man from the levy whom it deems best qualified to command, and place him in charge of the party for its trip. He will name a second in command to aid him and the other men will be told that orders of these two men must be obeyed under pain of military discipline.

The man in charge of the party will call the roll at the board headquarters just before train time. He will then line up the draft, and, accompanied by the board members, march them to the station to entrain.

There final verification of the list will be made and if any man of the selected number is missing, an alternate will be sent forward in his place.

TO WATCH OVER MEN.

It will be the duty of the commander of each party to watch over his men during the trip, to see that none are left behind at any station, that all are fed regularly and that no liquor is furnished to them en route. When within six hours of the camp, he will file a telegram to the camp adjutant-general, notifying him of the time of arrival. Immediately upon the departure of the train the local board will send a similar message.

After the departure of the levy for camp, the local boards will turn to gathering up stragglers. If there is evidence of wilful violation of orders, the offender will be reported to the Adjutant-General of the army as a deserter.

Arrived at the camp, the party will undergo final physical examination by army doctors. If any are rejected the local board will be notified and an alternate sent forward for each such case. The net quota of a board will be regarded as filled only when the full number of men called for have been finally accepted.

Provision is made also for a strict accounting as to quotas between the Federal government and the adjutants-general in the first instance, and between the adjutants and the local boards in the second. Reports to show the standing of such accounts will be filed every ten days until every quota has been filled.

UNDERWEIGHT ALLOWANCE.

The new regulations grant an underweight allowance of from five to six pounds for men between sixty-four and sixty-seven inches in height, to twelve pounds for men above seventy-five inches. The effect of the instructions is to reduce the normal weight requirements for tall men.

An additional half-inch allowance on chest expansion also is allowed to men above sixty-eight inches in height where there is no sign of disease.

Men with poor teeth also will be more closely scrutinized hereafter. Where dental work will restore the teeth they will be enrolled.

A punctured eardrum is found to be no barrier, provided the hearing is half normal. Modifications are made also in slight requirements which will give physicians wider latitude in accepting men, despite some defects of vision.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 9.—Members of Congress were aroused to indignation today over assertions by Frank Stevens, a Delaware pacifist, that President Wilson should be impeached and Congress should stay in Washington to attend to the job. Stevens made his outbreak at a meeting of representatives of the People's Council for Democracy and Peace which was staged in the Senate Military Affairs Committee-room at the Capitol.

Senators and Representatives who heard some of the statements made by the pacifists were incensed that a committee-room in the Capitol should have been used for a meeting in which attacks were made upon the administration and the President.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, said that he had permitted the use of the room when Isaac McBride, former secretary to the late Senator Lane of Oregon, asked him for permission to have some of his friends meet with members of Congress there. He said that he had no idea the room was to be used to stage an attack upon the President.

A number of Senators and Representatives drifted into the meeting and many of them, when they heard the tenor of the speeches which condemned the war, its conduct, and the draft law, left the room highly indignant.

Among the members of Congress attending the meeting were Senators Gronna, Hitchcock, Fletcher, Kirby, Johnson of California and Representative Baker of California and Lundin of Minnesota.

Proposals were made that Congress stay in session throughout the rest of the year "in order that civil liberty in the United States may be the better protected." It was proposed also that Congress send democratic commissioners to the September conference of the Allies for a reconsideration of their war aims.

INTRODUCES SON.

Mr. Stevens, who demanded the impeachment of the President, introduced his son, who refused to register for the draft on the ground of being a "conscientious objector," and is awaiting trial in the Federal courts in Delaware.

Young Stevens said he expected to serve a year in prison for his refusal to register, but insisted he would continue to refuse to take up arms.

Louis P. Lochner of New York, a member of the Ford peace party, presided. The burden of the speeches was that a majority of the people were opposed to the draft law, and that it should be repealed.

H. J. Lemke, Republican State chairman of North Dakota, declared that the views of Senator Gronna of that State and the views of Senator La Follette of Wisconsin agreed with the sentiments of the people of North Dakota.

Gronna and La Follette both voted against the war resolution.

Senator Gronna and Representative Keating of Colorado were the only Congressmen to remain during the entire meeting.

The speakers included:

Frank Stevens of Arden, Del.; Daniel Kiefer, chairman of the National Single Tax League; T. H. Lundy, Chicago; Prof. Paul R. Dana of Columbia University, Max Eastman of New York, editor of the Masses, barred from the mails, and a number of representatives of labor unions in Philadelphia and New York.

erning communities and there was great multiplicity of effort. All of these problems are working themselves out, however, and bid fair to be solved soon.

SOCIALIST FACTIONS.

Even the Socialist problem, which has caused concern here, will solve itself, Mr. Russell thinks. Everyone in Russia is a Socialist, he says, and the big problem is now getting them united into one body. Three factions of them, ranging from conservative to radical, deliberate in the Workmen's Council, he explains, and they get on amicably.

Mr. Root will work with officials here in aiding to rehabilitate Russia. From time to time supplemental reports dealing with special phases of the situation will be submitted to different departments interested in working out the new nation's problems.

Six special reports probably will be submitted to different departments of the government. Upon arrival in Russia each commissioner was given a special assignment to cover some particular branch of the new government, to advise the Russians and be of particular aid to the United States officials upon his return home.

THE ASSIGNMENTS.

The assignments were as follows: Mr. Root, Ministry; Charles Edward Russell, Workmen's Council, political parties and Socialists; Cyrus H. McCormick and Charles Bertron, finance; James Duncan, labor; John R. Mott and Charles R. Crane, religion; Maj.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, army; Rear-Admiral James H. Glennon, navy.

Reports on labor conditions particularly are being eagerly awaited by government officials and labor leaders because of the great activity of workingmen in the formation of the new government and the conflicting unofficial reports on that feature of the situation. Although Mr. Duncan has not completed his special report, he gave an outline of some of the principal features of it today to set at rest conflicting stories.

DUNCAN'S STATEMENT.

"The Russian workingman certainly will do his share," Mr. Duncan said. "He has done it already and he is entering into the spirit of the new government with a whole heart. When the scheme of government finally is rounded out he will be found to have a big hand in it and he will discharge his duties properly.

"Gradually the workingmen are assimilating the idea of organization and I expect them to bring out some sort of a federation embracing both skilled and unskilled labor, more similar perhaps, to the British system than to ours. While I was in Petrograd a meeting of twenty-nine trades was held for the purpose of organizing and the men listened with apparently keen interest to my explanation of how labor operated in its organizations in this country. I do not know what the results of that meeting have been, but when we left the outlook for effective organization was splendid.

"Russian workingmen still are too dazzled by their freedom to organize. Of course, under the Czar, they had no labor organizations, because such bodies were regarded as revolutionary and their members were subject to the severest penalties. Now that they have organizations they scarcely know how to operate them. It is not unusual for the workers to leave their benches in the middle of the day, call a meeting and advise their employer that they are displeased with conditions.

"Their street meetings are peculiar. Guaranteed the liberty of free speech, they are making the most of it. The military guards permit them wide latitude and they have some heated wrangles on street corners. At the close of the debates, however, it is customary for the leading belligerents to exchange cigarettes, shake hands and proceed to other meetings.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

"The eight-hour day, enforced soon after the revolution, has greatly pleased the workers. It is a wonderful sight to see workers who have been tyrannized for years coming out of factories at 4 o'clock in the afternoon with nothing to do until tomorrow.

"In many cases wages have been raised 100 per cent. This seems large, but when it is remembered that wages in Russia always were low and it was not unusual for manufacturers to make from 50 to 300 per cent. the increase does not seem exorbitant. The workingmen are just beginning to realize that their employers have been wasting rich off them and that heretofore they have been taking vacations of from two to three months during the summer, with large sums in their pockets.

"I look for very close affiliation between the government and labor. Activities of the workingmen in the council now presage this and the laboring classes are bright enough to maintain the important hold on the situation."

Describing the sessions of the Workmen's Council, in which he sat almost daily for a month, Charles Edward Russell said it compared very favorably with other similar legislative bodies. The greater apparent difference, he said, was in the absence of laundered collars. Only the newspaper reporters wore them, he said.

WELL REGULATED.

"The council is very well regulated," he said. "There is no such disorders as might be expected. While there are more than 1000 members, 930 with votes and 200 without votes, they are under very good control.

"All members may speak on any proposition if they desire, but speeches are limited to ten minutes, except in the cases of Ministers and visitors. I recall that one Minister occupied two hours in explaining the proposed railroad rehabilitation plan of the United States commission. He addressed the council for about an hour and a half. The Ministers are given seats on the floor, but no vote."

UNIONISTS OPPOSE PEACE RESOLUTION.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 9.—Two hundred delegates from the Rhenish Westphalian industrial unions assembled in congress at Dortmund, Germany, adopted a resolution against the peace declaration of the Reichstag majority and recorded their condemnation of any participation of the international social democratic movement fostered by enemies to sow dissension in the ranks of the German workers.

FRIED CHICKEN FOR FRENCHMEN

Americans Entertain Teachers at a Field Luncheon.

Men All Share Alike from Big Army Kitchens.

Marines Dejected at Losing Their Green Uniforms.

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Aug. 9.—Taking advantage of a half-holiday on Wednesday afternoon, one of the American regiments training in France entertained its French instructors at a field luncheon or picnic in one of the most ruggedly-picturesque spots in the entire American army area. The American officers entertained the French officers and the American enlisted men their comrades in the French ranks.

The men all shared alike in being helped from the big field kitchens. They sat on the grass, ate together and carried on lively conversations, despite the difference in tongue. There were many good things to eat, cooked in American fashion, but the French soldiers seemed to enjoy most of all the home-made white bread which was served from the American field bakeries.

The French officers were given a particular treat in the way of fried chicken, country style. The afternoon was a great success and marked a still closer amity between the American and French armies. When the luncheon was at its height one French officer enthusiastically exclaimed: "Oh, if the boys could only see us now!"

The American soldiers have a half-holiday each Wednesday in place of a half-holiday on Saturday, since from Saturday noon to Monday morning is too long an interval to be away from work.

The marines are somewhat dejected over the order that they must adopt khaki instead of their most distinctive uniform of forest green. The latter looks extremely like the German field-gray uniform after being in service a little while, but the ing is service a little while, but the real reason for the change unquestionably is the desire to simplify the equipment of the expeditionary force and to make all the equipment interchangeable.

"Sammies" Apt Students.

PERSHING'S MEN LIKE WAR TASKS.

AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE TAKE WORK SERIOUSLY.

United States Soldiers Appreciate Their Responsibility and Surprise Their Tutors by Ability to Learn Quickly—Want Support of the "Folks Back Home."

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Aug. 9.—The deepest impression one gains after three weeks with the American soldiers training in France is the absolute earnestness with which the splendid young men of the army have undertaken the task which is before them. There is no disposition on their part or on the part of their officers to underestimate the seriousness of that task and the hard work which remains to be done before America can take her place in the actual firing line.

The troops that are here feel their responsibility keenly. There are indeed the small but effective nucleus about which will be builded the great army machine which the United States hopes eventually to have on the battlefields of France.

The men are earnest in their desire to absorb war knowledge as quickly and as thoroughly as possible, so that when called upon to act as instructors to succeeding units they will be found eminently qualified. A great deal of this earnestness and this will to do is largely the result of the enthusiasm of the young officers, who but recently joined the colors and have taken up the business of war with a courage and determination that means volumes to the future of their country.

SUPPORT OF "HOME FOLKS."

In return for this service of patriotism, in return for sacrifices already made and the still greater ones to come, the officers and men alike of the expeditionary force want to feel always that they have an understanding of sympathy and of support from "the folks back home." Face to face with the great adventure, all thoughts of self are things of the past. There is only the thought of home and the hope in the soldier's breast that what he is about to do will be understood and appreciated there.

Under the best circumstances, the training of soldiers in the ever-changing methods of modern war is a labor requiring months of patient effort. Six months is the ideal training period, but this rule applies to armies which have been fighting three years, and have all the machinery established through which the men are passed smoothly and unendingly toward the front.

The building of this machinery—the great engine of war which works behind the lines—is the staggering task now being dealt with. It is a task in a way greater than anything France or Great Britain have been called upon to do, for America's problems are those of France and Great Britain multiplied by 3000 miles of Atlantic Ocean.

The army that is here realizes all these difficulties, but it also has an unshakable faith in American genius for accomplishment and, above all others, in the American will. The way to the trenches is long and hard. The daily drills and tasks necessarily are much the same thing over and over again, all of which means a dearth of real news just now.

AMERICANS LEARN QUICKLY.

It is not known how much longer the French instructional division will remain with the Americans. The latter are proving so apt and the training camps are so well established that undoubtedly it will be only a comparatively short time when but a few picked French officers and noncommissioned officers will be retained to assist in the training.

Students of the war, which has now entered its fourth year, are convinced that the morale of the troops and of the nations of the Entente will prove to be the final factor in deciding the titanic struggle. The morale of the American soldiers in France can easily be estimated by the avidity with which they take up the training in offensive tactics as against defensive work. The latter is very essential, naturally, but it is a phase of training likely to prove a bit irksome to troops imbued with the offensive spirit, as are the Americans. They are sincerely anxious, most of them, for their turn in the trenches, even if at first it is only a temporary sojourn at the front for training purposes.

The men are eager for a glimpse of war and there is no doubt that it will add infinite zest to their future training and to their ability to train future divisions. The men still are far enough from the line to see little that has to do with real fighting. Some enthusiasts at the camps have asserted that they could hear the drumming of the big guns at the front, but there is little doubt that imagination had something to do with the acuteness of their ears. A brief tour of duty in the trenches will explain much to them, however, and it will make them appreciate to the full the great deal of training which they now do not wholly understand.

GERMAN PUBLISHER JAILED AT ST. PAUL.

DR. FRITZ BERGMEIER IS HELD AS GOVERNMENT ENEMY.

Alleged Reflections on Gen. Pershing and Objectionable Anti-draft Comment in His Newspaper Lead to the Arrest of the Editor by Federal Officers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Aug. 9.—Dr. Fritz Bergmeier, president of the St. Paul Volks Zeitung, was arrested today by order of President Wilson under the proclamation of April 6. The general policy of the Volks Zeitung has been to "cast aspersion by innuendo" on American war measures, it is charged. He was committed to jail pending further orders from the President.

In a statement Dr. Bergmeier said he believed his arrest was a mistake, as he had tried to make all matter printed in the Volks Zeitung conform with regulations. Dr. Bergmeier came from Germany twelve years ago and has taken out first naturalization papers.

Reflections on Gen. Pershing, head of the American expedition in France, were among articles in the Volks Zeitung found objectionable, it is understood. Recent comments on anti-draft and anti-foreign service meetings in the State were found objectionable also, it was said. The District Attorney refused to discuss the case, other than to say that no trial would be held and that the editor would be held as an enemy alien until President Wilson permitted his release.

MAY MAKE ALIENS LIABLE TO DRAFT.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 9.—That members of the United States Senate Military Committee are unanimously in favor of changing the draft law to make unnaturalized aliens liable to conscription, was the substance of a telegram received today by Q. B. Kelly, president of the Bingham Commercial Club, from United States Senator Reed Smoot. Senator Smoot's telegram was a reply to a protest of Bingham that the city would be left in the hands of foreigners if the present draft law is finally effected.

The telegram stated that the committee has been besieged with hundreds of protests from mining camps throughout the country since Bingham started the movement.

FORTY AMERICANS ON WRECKED SHIP.

NEWPORT NEWS (Va.) Aug. 9.—Destruction of the British steamer Argalia, with forty American muleteers, by a German submarine was reported by cable today to the ship's agents here. Capt. Morris and ten of the crew were lost; survivors were landed at Glasgow. Whether any of the lost were Americans was not reported. No details were given.

The Argalia left here July 18 for a British port with a cargo of horses. She was about twenty days out when sunk and it is believed that she had landed her cargo and was en route to Glasgow.

William McGregor, San Francisco, was one of the Americans on board.

ANTI-DRAFT PLOT SPREADS TO TEXAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EMORY (Tex.) Aug. 9.—What the Sheriff and Federal agents believe was an organized plot to resist enforcement of the draft law was frustrated in its incipiency here late last night and this morning in the arrest of eighteen persons who now are in jail. According to the Sheriff's office today, the men may be charged with treason.

Deputy Sheriff W. E. Beaver said this afternoon that information obtained showed the men under arrest had been holding secret meetings and were laying plans for an organized and armed resistance against being drafted into the army. A half-dozen rifles were confiscated.

INCREASE CHARGES FOR MOVING GRAIN.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—Members of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce today voted to amend the rules of the association to make possible the introduction of a new schedule of commission rates on grain, increasing the present rate of 1 cent a bushel for wheat to 2 cents and like advances for other grains handled on a percentage basis.

WORKS RANTS TO PACIFISTS.

Denounces Associated Press as Tool of the Rich.

Scores District Attorney John D. Preston.

Declares it is Illegal to Stop Free Speech.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The conference for democracy and terms of peace continued today its sessions, at one of which yesterday Daniel O'Connell, a lawyer, was arrested by Federal authorities on a charge of conspiring to obstruct the provisions of the Espionage Act, especially as pertaining to the selective draft law. The meetings are being held under the auspices of the People's Council of America.

Former United States Senator John D. Works of Los Angeles was among the speakers, and he said the proceedings of the gathering would not get much space in the newspapers. He said:

"Do you suppose the Associated Press is going to carry anything to the newspapers it represents of what you and I are doing here today? Oh, no. Now, why?

SCORES THE A. P.

"Not particularly because the Associated Press does not want to send out the news. Probably it does, but if the Associated Press were to take any such position as that—that it would send out freely the criticisms upon the war and legislation that brought it about—against the will of the money kings of New York, who have been more instrumental than any other influence in bringing on this war—the Associated Press would go out of business.

"Why, those interests that permeate all over this country, centering in the great State of New York, can destroy any newspaper that does not do what they want them to do, even here in San Francisco."

Mr. Works said that if Congress or the President interfered with free speech they were violating the Constitution and their oaths of office.

CRITICISES PRESTON.

Mr. Works criticised United States District Attorney John W. Preston for the manner of the arrest of O'Connell. Yesterday's meeting, he said, was "an improper place" to do this.

Speakers at the afternoon session included John Drury, San Jose; Miss Alice Park, Palo Alto, and Elizabeth Freeman, New York.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford University, took the audience that "democracy points forward and the greatest of world issues are still ahead of us."

Dr. Jordan, treasurer of the council, spoke on "What of Democracy?"

FROM JORDAN'S REMARKS.

"The red flags of anarchy are waved when the people think, but cannot act," he continued. "We recognize that the question of actual war or peace is no longer an issue. Our nation has gone into the struggle, and, as I have said, the only way out is forward. We cannot back out and we cannot sidestep. Shall democracy or tyranny be on top, and will victory in the field be the death of democracy at home? Obstruction in these days is folly. Holding back gets nowhere. Sooner or later democracy must control every illusion because there is no one else who can do it. The essence of democracy is bound up in two principles—personal freedom and obedience to law. Any attempts to interfere with the rights of free speech or a free press is a blow at the very foundation of our government. American freedom was English liberty revived and invigorated, and we cannot permit it to die."

O'CONNELL TALKS.

Attorney O'Connell assailed United States officers here and characterized their arrest of him as he concluded a speech yesterday at one of the conferences, "as entirely unnecessary."

"The grand jury will indict me tomorrow," he said, "because it always does what it is told. The arrest and issuance of the warrant yesterday was entirely unnecessary. It was done to intimidate, not you and me, but everybody concerned with this movement, and anybody who ever entertained thoughts of joining us. For the newspapers seized upon it and sent it broadcast throughout the country. It seems to me that when the newspapers have to say anything against you, it is news; when they have anything to say for you, or favoring you, they do not print it, for it is advertising."

Attorney O'Connell was given an ovation by the large crowd that thronged the hall where the conference was held.

AUSTRIAN REFORM MEASURES TABLED.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 9.—Problems of reform are tabled and only new taxation, the passing of the provisional budget and an extension or renewal of the arrangement with Hungary are included in the programme with which the Austrian Premier, Dr. Von Seydler, will endeavor to carry on his government.

According to Vienna dispatches, prospects of a parliamentary ministry have vanished entirely, the Christian Socialists, Poles, Czechs, and the southern Slavs having refused to participate in the government. Vienna political observers give Premier Seydler's administration, which will bring the people more taxes than bread, a short span of life.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9.—Complaints that several physicians here are placing a drug in the eyes of men called for examination under the selective army law in order that they will fail to pass the physical test were made to the St. Louis district exemption board by several ward boards. Official investigation was begun today.

Complaints also have been made that some of the men have been given medicine to affect the heart.

SHIPPING BOARD PLANS TO ORGANIZE DEPARTMENT.

Search for Practical Man to Head Bureau is Being Conducted. Rear-Admiral Capps Probably will be Director, with Two Members of the Board.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — Commandeering of American tonnage now on the seas will be begun by the Shipping Board, it was learned today, as soon as an operating department can be organized and a practical shipping man can be found to head it. The board has the names of several men under consideration and probably will make an announcement within a few days.

The board deems it unwise, it was said today, to take over for operation any ships until a definite plan is formed and until it has an organization to handle the vessels. Two plans are before the board. One calls for government operation of all ships requisitioned and the other for a system of commandeering charters. Under the latter plan the vessels would be turned back to their owners for operation under direction of the board's operating department. The latter plan probably will be adopted.

The present intention is to form the new department under the fleet corporation, its direct members to be Rear-Admiral Capps, manager of the fleet corporation, and two or more members of the Shipping Board. The shipping man to be put at the head of the department would answer to them.

The subject of an international control of tonnage and rates was discussed by the board today.

Sinking of Belgian Prince Described by Survivor.

Submarine Submerges with Men Upon to Rock.

Lifeboats' Oars Flung to Sea by Germans.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 9.—Snell, a negro of Jamaica, the only American survivor of the British steamship Belgian Prince, which was sunk July 31 by a German submarine with the loss of thirty-eight lives, today told of his experiences to the Associated Press. He said:

"A torpedo hit the ship. A submarine then appeared on the surface about 300 yards from the starboard and fired at our boat. We left the ship in three boats and had not gone many yards from the ship when the submarine came alongside and opened fire on our captain, who was aboard and inside the conning tower.

"The members of the crew were ordered to hold up their hands and the Germans asked if there were any gunners among us. I said there were two, we only.

"The Germans sent us back to our boat and had any pocket knives.

"We were then ordered on deck of the submarine and were told by the commander to move over the bulwarks and jump on deck. This we did. Then the commander went into the conning tower, the doors into the engine room were closed and the men remove the propeller. Then the plugs were knocked out of holes in the boats, which were cast adrift.

"The submarine went northeast for twelve miles, the commander taking the submarine to the top of the conning tower and watching them overboard. Then the submarine began to submerge, the commander taking the last look at the men as they were standing on deck and then disappeared with the ship.

"The rest of the crew remained on deck until they were washed into the sea as the boat dived. It was a terrible sight. One would throw up their hands and go down, or, fighting to keep afloat, splashed water on the others.

CHAUTAUQUA WORK FOR CONGRESSMEN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Congress itself into a great Chautauqua. When it finishes work here, to every section of the country, to need for prosecuting the war vigorously, not only as a war for democracy, but as a fight for human rights and preservation.

President Wilson himself may "do" the same in the same direction possibly by a speech on some occasion or a letter to Congressional leaders.

Such plans were in a nebulous state today, Congressional leaders were talking of practically putting them on the stump by asking each Representative and Senator to go through his district through the month speaking on the part of the United States in the war and emphasizing that the United States is fighting for the future, not of the past, but of itself.

Those who favor the plan point out that the country is hearing mainly from those who oppose the draft and obstruction in the war. They think that fathers and mothers who are sending sons to the colors should hear from the other side of the question and from official sources.

EXPERTS TEST NEW ARMY AUTOS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Standard automobiles will be used by the army before the close of the year, according to officials of the quartermaster department, who have watched with satisfaction the progress made in tests by the automobile experts who are here studying the question of standardization. Tests are being equipped with certain changes already have been made and it was announced today that tests of newly assembled trucks would be completed within a month.

Recommendation of the War Department to adopt a standardized motor truck in line with the policy of the Navy and War departments and there are reasons to believe the example set in searching for a standardized aviation engine and automobile truck will be followed even in the purchase of supplies.

Breath of Winter.

WYOMING BOASTS AUGUST BLIZZARD.

CHEYENNE SWEPT BY SNOW-STORM; TOURISTS SHIVER.

High Wind Accompanies the Precipitation, but Storm is Routed by Sun Before Flakes Have an Opportunity to Decorate the Landscape.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Aug. 9.—Eastern tourists sojourning in the Wyoming Rockies were greatly surprised when snow began falling here early this morning. After a few minutes the storm assumed the proportions of a blizzard driven by a high south wind. The snow fell as rapidly and as hard as in mid-winter. After a quarter of an hour the storm subsided as quickly as it came up.

Today's snowfall is second to the earliest ever recorded. Old residents are telling the story today of how the snowstorm threatened to spoil an old-fashioned Fourth of July, sixteen years ago, which is borne out by the official records showing the earliest snowfall in Wyoming was on July 4, 1901.

HAIL IN NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN (Neb.) Aug. 9.—A heavy hail storm accompanied by high winds and rain swept Central Nebraska yesterday afternoon and reports today show thousands of dollars damage done to crops and property in a strip 120 miles long and from four to ten miles wide, extending from the vicinity of York, Neb., to the Kansas line. Thirty thousand square feet of glass was broken in stores and dwellings. Small buildings, barns and wind mills were destroyed, roofs wrecked and crops beaten to the ground by the hail. No loss of life was reported.

PERSHING FAVORS SMALL DIVISIONS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Reduction of the strength of American army divisions to the European standards of 19,000 men and revival of the old army corps major tactical unit was recommended, it was learned today, by Maj.-Gen. Pershing, after a careful study of conditions at the front. American officers are convinced that sound military reasons induced the French and British War Offices to adopt this tactical formation for trench warfare.

Reductions of the divisions means a big job for the War Department. Much administrative work already completed probably will have to be thrown aside and done over. Gen. Pershing's recommendations are positive, however, and the department's attitude is the same as it was toward Gen. Funston, during the Mexican trouble. The wishes of the man on the ground, on whom rests the responsibility for actual operations, will be met as far as is practicable.

One effect of the reduction of both brigades and divisions will be to create many additional vacancies in the grades of major and brigadier general.

PROFESSOR ATTACKS THE DRAFT LAW.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Guy H. Broughton, until recently assistant professor of chemistry at the University of California, who was arrested in Berkeley last Monday for refusing to submit to physical examination incident to his call in the selective draft, continued defiant when arraigned here today before United States Commissioner Francis Krull.

"If every citizen took your view against the law and organized government," said Commissioner Krull, "there would be chaos in the country."

"Some laws are so vicious," Broughton rejoined, "that a little chaos is the only way to get them out of the way." He announced he intended to attack the constitutionality of the draft law and would persist in his refusal to submit to physical examination.

He was held for further examination in $500 bail. Unable to provide the amount, Broughton was sent to jail.

MEXICAN SNIPERS RESUME OPERATIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, Aug. 9.—Mexican snipers have resumed operations on "the island," a small tract of land on the American side of the Rio Grande, but on the Mexican side of the boundary line. Sniping at American army patrols has become a nightly occurrence and the American soldiers have been given orders to return the fire from the Mexican side and to shoot to kill.

Senate Hopes to Pass Measure in About Two Weeks.

Criticism of Revision is Expected on the Floor.

Both Parties Co-operating to Hasten Enactment.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Senate debate on the $3,000,000,000 war tax bill is to begin tomorrow, with the leaders hopeful of passage in about two weeks.

The debate is expected to center on the income, war profits, liquor and consumption tax sections. The proposed special tax on incomes of publishers, and the proposed increase of second-class mail rates also promise considerable discussion.

Advance comment at the Capitol indicates that the broad lines of opposition will be upon criticism that the Finance Committee's revision has been in the interest of corporate and wealthy interests. Committee members are preparing to vigorously combat such criticisms. Members of both parties are co-operating to expedite the bill.

KANSAS CITY CARS STALLED BY STRIKE.

NO ACTION TAKEN TO RESTORE TRANSPORTATION SERVICE.

Three Thousand People in Line when Union Men and Their Wives Parade—Arbitration Expected to End Terminal Trouble—Butte Situation Better.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 9.—The tie-up of the street cars of the Kansas City Railways Company, effective since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, continued tonight. Not a car has moved in more than twenty-four hours and company officials tonight announced no action had been taken to restore service.

A parade was held by the strikers and their wives. Labor officials estimated 3000 people were in line. There was no disorder.

Labor officials estimate that 2100 men are out.

ARBITRATION AT OAKLAND.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 9.—Arbitration, without recourse to a strike, will settle the differences over higher wages and other matters between the carmen and the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, in the belief of officials of the company and representatives of the men, who stated today that the strike situation was hopeful. Joint conference of the Grievance Committee of the carmen's union and of the members of the Executive Committee of the company's board of directors will be resumed tomorrow.

BUTTE SITUATION BETTER.

BUTTE, Aug. 9.—With street car traffic normal again following nearly a week's tie-up due to the strike of the carmen, the labor situation today seemed much relieved so far as the city itself was concerned. The situation at the mines is not so promising. Radical members of the Metal Trades Council are seeking a reconsideration of the vote of the State Metal Trades Council by which the new contracts with the mining and smelter companies were ratified.

The mining situation now depends largely upon the action of the Anaconda Smeltermen's Union tomorrow night. It was stated today that if the smeltermen's demands for a $3 a day advance have not been granted by the time of that meeting plans are laid for taking a strike vote Monday. A strike at the Washoe smelter in Anaconda would tie up operations in a large percentage of the mines in Butte.

Radicals in the metal trades have called a mass meeting for Sunday afternoon to discuss the labor situation in Butte.

TAFT'S CONDITION IS SLIGHTLY WORSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLAY CENTER (Kan.) Aug. 9.—The condition of former President William H. Taft, who is ill at a local hotel, was announced by the attending physician, as "not so good as yesterday," while the attendant said he did not consider the situation dangerous, he thought quietness advisable and forbade callers.

Because of the unfavorable turn in Mr. Taft's condition, all of his speaking engagements until August 13 has been cancelled.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY IN FERGUSON CASE.

AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 9.—Testimony seeking to show that Gov. J. E. Ferguson sought to dominate the board of regents of the University of Texas was the principal matter brought up today at the hearing of Speaker F. O. Fuller's charges against the Governor, looking toward his impeachment. Dr. H. E. Vinson, president of the university, was the first witness of the day, giving details of management and expenditures at the university.

Dr. Vinson spent most of the day on the stand under cross-examination. He answered questions touching on the management and expenditures of the university, including the Governor's charge of "dead men," on the pay roll, extravagance in expenditures and snobbishness in Greek letter fraternities. All the Governor's charges were denied.

The matter of fraternities was gone into exhaustively and it appeared that up to two years ago there were serious abuses in connection with them. They now are strictly regulated, high scholarship requirements being imposed, Dr. Vinson said.

LUMBERMEN MAY GET SHORTER DAY.

NORTHWESTERN OPERATORS AND MEN FAVOR PLAN.

Seattle Conference of Timber Workers and Council of Defense Makes Little Progress, but Those Attending the Session are Optimistic.

[BY A. P. WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 9.—The third day of the conference of the State Council of Defense with representatives of Western Washington lumber manufacturers and mill workers opened with hope of definite results before night toward settlement of the strike of mill workers, which has brought lumber manufacturing in the district practically to a standstill.

A presentation of the pertinent facts on each side of the strike has been completed in the sessions of the two preceding days, affording a common ground on which negotiations may proceed.

Proposals by labor representatives either that the eight-hour day be immediately established and all other demands waived, or that all other demands, including the closed shop, be granted, and the eight-hour day waived, have not yet been favorably received by representatives of the lumbermen. The lumbermen accepted, and the workers rejected, a proposal from the defense council that the men be granted an eight-hour day January 1, 1918, provided the men working then in mills and camps declared a preference for it, in a secret ballot taken by the defense council.

At the expiration of the morning session it seemed likely that one early definite move would be a united campaign by the lumbermen and the unions for the establishment of a national eight-hour day in the lumber industry. This could be brought about, it was stated, by direct agreement of the lumber operators of the country, without the necessity of Federal legislation.

Twenty-two thousand men are working in the lumber mills of Western Washington now, and many mills affected by the present strike will resume operations in a short time, according to district reports to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association from all points in the district. The mills normally employ about 40,000 men.

Practically all the mills now operating are declared to be running on a ten-hour day basis.

MURDERED LITTLE CRIPPLE IS FOUND.

CHILD KILLED BY HOUSE-KEEPER WAS "BOTHER."

Body of Alice Bradshaw, for Which Vermont Search has been Made for Some Time, Discovered in Border of Swamp Mile from Father's House.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. JOHNSBURY (Vt.) Aug. 9.—The body of Alice Bradshaw, the little cripple, believed to have been murdered July 5 because she was a "bother," was found tonight on the border of a swamp about a mile from her father's house in Lyndon.

Search for the little girl was begun July 6, after the county officials had stated that Miss Etta May Hicks, housekeeper for John Bradshaw, the child's father, and Mrs. Alvin Kenneston, had confessed they had killed the child because she was a bother. The two women have been under detention in the local jail since then, and, according to the officials, have made contradictory statements concerning the case from time to time.

The cause of the child's death could not be determined in a preliminary examination tonight. Pending further examination by the county medical examiner and other officials, all information was withheld.

Alice was left a cripple as a result of an attack of infantile paralysis a year ago. Her mother died when she was a baby and since her illness the child had been in the care of Miss Hicks, her father's housekeeper.

It was understood that plans were under consideration to have both Miss Hicks and Mrs. Kenneston transferred to the State prison at Windsor for observation as to their mental condition.

GERMANS JUMPY AND NERVOUS.

Gen. Maurice Declares They Exaggerate Reports.

Russian Retirement Lessened, Says War Expert.

Strenuous Efforts Made to Restore Discipline.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Continuous rains and fogs have made last week one of little activity on the western front, said Maj.-Gen. Frederick B. Maurice, chief director of military operations, at the War Office, in his weekly talk to the Associated Press today.

"The German communiques, in their usual fashion," continued the general, "reported numerous British attacks repulsed with heavy loss. That shows the Germans are jumpy and nervous. As a matter of fact, there has been only one British attack, that on St. Julien, which was an entire success. The German communique made a deal of an alleged British attack from Nieuport, which was in fact only a minor raid."

Summing up the situation on the Russian front, Gen. Maurice said:

"The Russian retirement has conspicuously lessened in the last week. Premier Kerensky and Gen. Kornaloff, the Russian commander-in-chief, are making strenuous efforts, with considerable success, to re-establish discipline, but it would be premature to say that the Russian leaders have yet succeeded in setting a limit to the German advance. It would be premature even to regard the situation as more satisfactory."

MAURICE'S RESUME.

Gen. Maurice gave an interesting resume of the detailed reports which he had received on the air fighting in Flanders battle of July 31.

"On the day of the attack," says Gen. Maurice, "the weather conditions were as nearly impossible as could be imagined—low clouds of great density, haze and mist. The observation was almost nil and as a result the artillery was under a severe handicap, having to work without adequate airplane observation.

"But the airplanes were enormously busy in other departments. More than 100 engagements were fought by airplanes with the forces of the enemy on terra firma, our planes in these cases descending often to within less than fifty feet of the ground and sweeping the hapless enemy with their machine guns or bombing them. The enemy airplanes were wellnigh helpless to interfere.

FIGHTS IN THE AIR.

"Less than twenty fights in the air occurred, because the enemy did not dare come up, and in these fights we downed six enemy machines while we lost only three. There were eleven cases of machine gun attacks on German airdromes by British machines. Our airmen swooped down to an altitude lower than the tree tops and fired string after string into the German hangars, killing mechanics, damaging machines and blowing up workshops. Similar attacks were made repeatedly on parties of marching troops, on working parties and on transports.

"During the afternoon one of our airmen, cruising aloft several miles behind the German lines, spied a German staff car containing four staff officers speeding along a country road. He swooped down and chased the car five miles. The excited passengers, while urging the chauffeur to find shelter, stood up in the car, drew their revolvers and fired wildly into the wings of the big bird which was sailing overhead.

BRITISHER WINS.

"The British pilot finally got the car into the right position in front of his machine gun and swept the car with a hail of bullets, killing two of the officers. The car then stopped abruptly and the two other passengers rushed to a farmhouse for refuge.

"This is the sort of thing which went on behind the enemy's lines throughout the day of the attack. We had absolute command of the air."

MAID IS ABSENT; INQUEST POSTPONED.

MINEOLA (N. Y.) Aug. 9.—Two bullets and the revolver that caused the death of John L. de Saulles, shot and killed by his former wife last Friday, were exhibited here in court today at the inquest into the death of the one-time Yale athlete.

After three witnesses had been heard, the inquiry was abruptly halted because of the absence of Susanne Manteau, Mrs. Bianca de Saulles's maid, who accompanied her on the night of the tragedy. The inquest was postponed one week.

Mrs. De Saulles's 4-year-old son Jack spent an hour with his mother at the jail today. The mother seemed cheered when assured the visits would be repeated.

THREE MEN SHOT IN STRIKE RIOT.

LIMA (O.) Aug. 9.—Three men were shot in a clash between strike sympathizers and armed guards when rioting broke out in the street car strike here late today. Police dispersed a crowd of more than 1000 persons after they had attacked strike-breakers and demolished three cars. All saloons are closed tonight.

Six strikers were arrested. The company made no further effort to operate cars. The men struck July 11, asking higher pay and better working conditions.

The Water That Isn't Water.

ARE YOU EFFICIENT?

Not to the degree you might be unless your kidneys are doing their work properly.

Our ancestors walked and rode horseback or in jolting vehicles. We live on "shock absorbers" and gradually but surely our "internal economics" are storing up the waste poisons which vigorous exercise should eliminate. We try by Turkish baths and Swedish massage to counteract this.

Listen! MERCEY WATER will do it, and not as medicine, but as a daily thirst satisfier. It acts as a scavenger and at the same time as a builder. While dissolving and flushing the accumulated poisons from the blood, it is supplying the salts that your impoverished blood needs.

Alcoholic poisoning—as well as the functional disorders of men and women—is quickly benefited by the free use of the marvelous Natural Spring Water.

URGES TROOPS FOR BISBEE.

Attorney-General of Arizona Sends Governor Message.

Denounces Organization for Unpatriotic Action.

Executive Arrives at Scene to Make Investigation.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 9.—Only a force of Federal troops will overcome the "unlawful deportations" from Bisbee, Atty.-Gen. Jones wired Gov. Campbell today. The Governor received the message while in Tucson, en route to Bisbee.

The Attorney-General telegraphed that he had been "courteously informed by Bisbee's Controlling Committee, in the presence of the Sheriff, that determination is fixed that the daily practice of committees hearings and deportations will continue, regardless of law." The Attorney-General has been investigating conditions in Bisbee.

JONES SCORES I.W.W.

BISBEE, Aug. 9. — Atty.-Gen. Wiley E. Jones, who is here investigating the conditions leading up to and following the deportation from the Warren district, July 12, of more than 1100 alleged Industrial Workers of the World members and sympathizers, denounced the I.W.W. as an organization "that cannot be tolerated" and declared "there is no place for such doctrines under the American flag" in an address today to 300 women, some of them wives of the deported men.

Mr. Jones had refrained from discussing the situation until today, when he openly declared himself against the Industrial Workers of the World. During his stay, Mr. Jones has talked with many women whose husbands were among those deported.

The only light directly thrown on the result of his investigation since coming to Bisbee in referring to his talks with the women came when the Attorney-General said:

"We have taken the evidence of between thirty and forty of them and it has not disclosed much beyond what has already gone on to the newspapers, but it is reported officially, of course, from all those who have come before me."

Thomas E. Campbell, Governor of Arizona, arrived in Bisbee tonight and announced that he would remain in the Warren district "until the officers of Cochise county promise to keep within the law, or the situation is otherwise cleaned up in its entirety."

The Governor said he was in Bisbee to further investigate local conditions and determine whether the people were receiving their constitutional rights. He said he had received a message from Atty.-Gen. Jones that the people of Bisbee were determined to pursue the course adopted at the time of the deportation of more than 1100 men July 12.

When asked whether or not he contemplated asking the Federal government to send troops into the Warren district, and whether or not he would declare martial law, the Governor said he had authorized no statement to that effect and would not discuss his plans.

MINNESOTA MINERS RETURN TO WORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DULUTH (Minn.) Aug. 9.—Indications today were that incipient strikes on the Mesaba and Cayuna iron ranges of Minnesota have failed. Messages from the Cuyuna, where there was danger last night that what started out to be an I.W.W. strike might develop into a race controversy between Finns and Serbians, said that all is quiet there.

The four hundred miners, all Austrians, at the Gilbert properties, who walked out yesterday, have returned to work.

leading eastern and Middle Western cities show an average of 65 per cent. of the men called on the first draft as claiming exemption. This is an improvement of 10 per cent. over the earlier returns, as far as the North and West is concerned. The following are approximate figures for some of these cities:

New York—Men examined, approximately 40,000; 70 per cent. claim exemption; 10,000 found eligible, the others being aliens or physically unfit. It is estimated that about 8000 failed to appear.

Chicago—Examined, 26,278; rejected, 6523, or 24.2 per cent. These are aliens or physically unfit. Passed but claimed exemption, 14,961, or 49.9 per cent. Accepted, 7225, or 25.2 per cent. Sixteen hundred failed to appear.

Philadelphia — 2816 examined; 1500 accepted; 814 rejected; other cases under consideration. Of those accepted, nearly one-half claimed exemption, the majority on the ground of having dependent relatives. Four hundred and twenty gave fictitious addresses or failed to appear.

Boston—12,000 examined; 2200 accepted, of whom three-fourths claimed exemption. Boston has a large Irish population, which is in a fighting mood, but objects to fight with or for anything England stands for. Five hundred and twelve who failed to appear are being searched for.

Indianapolis—2800 examined; 754 rejected for physical disabilities; 402 cases under consideration. Of those accepted, more than one-half claimed exemption. One hundred and seven failed to appear.

Cleveland—11,000 examined; 3000 accepted; 2400 aliens; 2200 rejected for various causes and nearly 800 failed to appear; 50 per cent. of those accepted claimed exemption.

Detroit—10,500 examined; 2030 accepted; nearly 4000 aliens or rejected for physical defects or as having prison records. One of the larger manufacturing plants employs large numbers of former convicts. Of those accepted, 54 per cent. claimed exemption, and 274 failed to appear.

St. Paul—3211 examined; 970 accepted, of whom 514 claimed exemption. This city has a large Swedish population which is against war with Germany, not through any love for Germany, but fear of Russian success. The exemption of this alien class will be heavy. Seventy-six failed to appear. Practically the same conditions prevail in Minneapolis.

It is difficult to get an accurate line on the southern cities, but the meager returns at hand show large numbers failing to respond to the call. The negroes are being registered and examined, with scant regard to their ages or dependents, or usefulness as farm laborers and workers generally. Figures so far at hand show about 60 per cent. of the whites claiming exemption.

Advices from all cities show that an active hunt is on for slackers and draft evaders. The number of eligibles who refused to register is much larger than suspected, and large numbers are being arrested, chiefly in cities which have heavy foreign populations, or where the Socialists and similar bodies have much influence. The recent ruling that friendly aliens may get into the service by taking out their first papers will do much to fill up the alarming gaps left by those claiming exemption, or who are getting out of duty under various pretexts. It is especially gratifying to record that the young army of drones who grabbed the first silly girl in sight and married her, thereby hoping to be exempted, are to be given no consideration. To the contrary, they will be shoved into service regardless of disabilities that would have exempted them had they not tried to evade the call. Thousands of wealthy men who bought, leased or rented farms and sent out their sons, hoping to have them exempted on the ground that they were "farmers," are in for a distressing experience, and their "farmer" sons, whose chief work was playing golf or riding in limousines, will get into khaki and learn a few valuable lessons. The country will make a heroic effort to struggle along without the products from these hastily-acquired farms.

LABOR ADJUSTMENT BOARD FOR WAR IS PROPOSED.

Commission to Have Final Jurisdiction in All Plants Where Government Work is Going on is Now the Plan of Washington — Employers and Workers will Have Representation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Creation of a labor adjustment commission to have final jurisdiction during the war over labor disputes in plants having contracts with the government, has been determined upon by the Council of National Defense. It is proposed to give the commission full powers by awarding contracts only to those who will agree to abide by its findings and require pledges of their employees to do so.

Members of the commission have not yet been selected. There will be nine of them, three representing the government, three representing the employers and three representing labor.

COMMISSION'S STATEMENT.

"The commission shall have jurisdiction over all disputes concerning wages or conditions of employment in all establishments having contracts with the government, in accordance with the eight-hour law of June 19, 1912, or March 3, 1913, and shall hear and determine all labor disputes in which more than 1000 workers are directly affected and may, in its discretion, hear and determine labor disputes in which less than 1000 workers are directly affected.

"It shall also have authority to appoint from time to time labor adjustment committees to hear and determine such labor disputes as may be assigned to them by the commission, where less than 1000 workers are directly affected, such committees to be representative of the same elements as the committee. The awards of the labor adjustment commission or the labor adjustment committees appointed by it shall be made in each case not more than thirty days after the case has been submitted to the commission and shall be binding upon the employees and employers in the plant or plants affected, for such period as may be expressed in the award, and not longer than sixty days after the close of the war.

IN EACH CONTRACT.

"In every contract hereafter made by the government in accordance with the eight hour law of June 19, 1912, or March 3, 1913, which may require or involve the employment of laborers or mechanics, there shall be included the following stipulations:

"That wages of persons employed upon such contracts shall be computed on a basic day rate of eight hours work, with overtime rates to be paid for at not less than time and one-half for all hours work in excess of eight hours.

"That whenever a labor dispute arises in any establishment under contract with the government in accordance with the provisions of the eight-hour labor law of June 19, 1912, or March 3, 1913, which the employers and employees, or their representatives are unable to mutually adjust and a strike seems imminent, the Department of Labor may, on its own initiative, or at the request of the employers the employed or the department whose contract is affected, appoint a mediator who shall, on behalf of the government, endeavor to bring about a mutually satisfactory adjustment of the dispute. If the mediator thus appointed is unable to bring the employers and employees to a mutual agreement, the question or questions in dispute shall be submitted for adjudication to the adjustment commission created by the Council of National Defense, work to be continued pending its decisions.

THREATEN STRIKE ON CANTONMENTS.

DEMAND CLOSED SHOP FOR GOVERNMENT WORK.

Discharge of All Non-union Employees is Sought by Agitators, Who Declare that Over 50,000 Workmen will Quit Unless They Get Their Way.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Threats that every union man engaged on government work would strike within a few days, unless demands of the Carpenters' Union for a closed shop on government contracts are met, were made by spokesmen for the union at a conference here today with representatives of the War and Navy departments and contractors. The union leaders declared that if the strike is called more than 50,000 men will quit work. Although another conference will be held tomorrow, the negotiations tonight were said to be deadlocked.

According to the union leaders, carpenter work on thirty army cantonments, two port terminals, several aviation camps and the New York navy yard is affected. It was claimed that about 3000 carpenters already are on strike at army cantonments near New York.

The carpenters demand the immediate discharge of all nonunion carpenters from Federal work, or the cancellation by the government of contracts with all firms employing such labor. At present, it was said, only eastern territory is involved, in the specific discussions, but union leaders said they would make a nation-wide affair of it unless their demands are met.

REFERENDUM FIGHT IN SUPREME COURT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—A mandate directing Secretary of State Frank Jordan to allow the printing of referendum petitions asking that the county tax revision law as passed by the last Legislature be placed on the ballot, was made returnable on Monday, August 27, by the State Supreme Court today. The principals are directed to make a showing before the court on that date.

The petition on which the writ was issued declared that the referendum petition should be regularly printed, and the law submitted to a vote of the people. Jordan declared that laws of the nature cited are not subject to referendum.

OAKLAND'S POLICE CHIEF QUITS POST.

OAKLAND, Aug. 9.—The difficulties that have entangled the standing of Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen in the police department since he became captain of Battery E, Field Artillery, were cleared away today when, at an informal session of the City Council, his resignation was accepted, to become effective September 1. Petersen will take an indefinite leave of absence as police captain and thus retain his civil service standing in the department.

After declaring yesterday that he would not resign, Chief Petersen was confronted with certain legalities in connection with resolutions he asked Commissioner Jackson to introduce in Council providing for his retirement without the necessity of a formal resignation.

BURGLAR IS KILLED IN REVOLVER DUEL.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 9.—George Quackenbush, a burgler who was caught after a revolver fight with a policeman here today in which a companion was killed and two other men wounded, tonight confessed, according to police, to committing the burglary for which he and his companion were being apprehended when they began the shooting.

Police recovered goods worth $1000 alleged to have been stolen last night from the residence of Louis Sonnickson, as the result of Quackenbush's confession. The man admitted, said police, that he and Jose Tasgasa, his dead companion, were ex-convicts from San Quentin prison, released July 27, last. Quackenbush, according to his statement, served five years for burglary committed in San Francisco, and Tasgasa was sentenced to the same term for the same crime in Sacramento.

The shooting occurred near the postoffice in the center of the city. Police Officer E. W. Wolford attempted to arrest Quackenbush and Tsagasa on suspicion of being implicated in last night's burglary. T. J. Reed, a bystander, received a flesh wound in the leg. Eighteen shots were fired, all three men emptying their revolvers. Quackenbush ran, followed by Chief of Police John Guerin, for a block and a half and was brought to bay in a woodshed where he surrendered.

WARN CALIFORNIANS TO PLANT POTATOES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Every farmer and home gardener in California was urged to plant winter potatoes immediately in largely-increased acreages, in a bulletin issued here today by the State Council of Defense.

The price of potatoes this winter will reach a high level because of the immense food demands by United States troops and the Allied powers, said the bulletin. The winter crop here must be sufficient to tide over the population of California and several adjoining States until the spring crop matures in the middle of next summer, the bulletin read.

"The council is able to give to growers of potatoes reasonable assurance that they will find ready market for their crop," said A. H. Naftzger, vice-chairman of the organization.

RIVER SWALLOWS BIG MOTOR TRUCK.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) Aug. 7.—Torrential rains have been known lately all along the border. In the appropriate locality of Rain Valley, in the northeastern corner of this county, and in the Whetstone Mountains, damage to crops resulted, much of the land being washed away or buried in mud. The roads have been badly affected. One odd occurrence was the disappearance in the bed of the Santa Cruz River, south of this point, of a heavy auto truck loaded with distillate and oil. The chauffeur, caught in the river, went for assistance. When he returned, the truck and its cargo had disappeared in the sands.

Word has been received from San Francisco that Arthur H. de Reimer, the only representative of this locality, has been graduated with a lieutenancy. For a year or more he has been an attorney in this city, but before that was in the office of the Postmaster-General in Washington.

A loss of $15,000, with insurance of only $4000, has been caused by the destruction of the Nogales Cafe Building by fire. The building was owned by Miss Mamie Donoghoe, but under lease to Nick Polhryane. The structure will be replaced at once.

Federal Conciliator Fails to Interest Miners.

Carmichael Gives Figures on Output.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Aug. 7.—No reward peace has followed the efforts of Federal Conciliator J. S. Myers. He did his best, but the workmen appeared to be little even for the success of their claims. Several notes passed through Mr. Myers. In one the General Grievance Committee stated that "the workers of this district feel that, as a duty we owe to the nation and the State, should set aside all personal considerations and in our humble way do everything in our power to again bring about better relations between employer and employes, to the end that resumption of work in the copper industry will occur in the Clifton district and thus assure to the country that measure of support necessary to a successful prosecution of the present war." But these patriotic sentiments were not followed by action, and the situation today is the same apathetic condition known for weeks.

However, it is possible that, had concessions been offered by the operators, they could hardly have been induced to resume work. A large number of miners and mechanics have left the district, and only latest reports of union carpenters discharged by the Deming, where they will work on the erection of the new cantonment.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 9.—"The only visitors that residents of Panama get are dispatches of wounded men, many of whom have been prisoners of the Germans and have suffered terribly."

Thus was the statement today of Mrs. Percy of Cristobal, Panama, who is a delegate to the Knights of Columbus Supreme Convention. She arrived at the canal for many years as a government employee. "Just before I left to come to the States," she continued, "a boatload of New Zealanders came through the canal. There were 800 of them and they were the most pitiful sight I have ever seen. Some were prisoners of the Germans and had been in Flanders, others to lose part of their feet and many were left on the battlefield after they had been mutilated and picked up by their own men.

"I had been in Flanders, at Verdun, some of the men I met had not been out of them had not been shot from the ammunition that was used, but from the bayonet by the enemy, but from the knife and lance in the hands of the Huns.

"There will be few New Zealanders as prisoners in the future for I have seen say in a reflective mood, 'I have seen many wounds much worse than death than undergo the torture handed out to prisoners.

...NATOR FAILS TO END STRIKE.

...s at Clifton are Reported Unchanged.

...d Conciliator Fails to Interest Miners.

...n Carmichael Gives Figures on Output.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Aug. 7.—No report of peace has followed the conference here by Federal Conciliator J. L. Myers. He did his best, and the workmen appeared to be keen for the success of their claims. Several notes passed through Mr. Myers. In one of these the General Grievance Committee stated that "the workers of Arizona feel that, as a duty we owe to the nation and the State, we must set aside all personal considerations and in our humble way will do all in our power to again establish better relations between employer and employes, to the end that the wheels of work in the copper industry will occur in the Clifton district, and thus assure to the nation the full measure of support so essential to a successful prosecution of the present war." But these conditions were not followed by action, and the situation today is the same apathetic condition that has existed for weeks.

Now it is possible that, had the proposition been offered by the Arizona Copper Company, the latter could hardly have been rejected by Manager Norman Westinghouse of the Arizona Copper Company, for he has passed the entire control into the hands of his associates in Edinburgh, Scotland.

OUT OF DISTRICT.

Conciliator Myers feels deeply the criticisms that have been made against him of unfairness and has made a review of local conditions, which, compared with those at Bisbee, the latter camp were employed 5197 men, who produced a total of 17,187,593 pounds of copper, an average of 147 pounds to the man. The three companies in the Morenci district in the same period employed 5197 men and produced 1,562,650 pounds of copper, equivalent to fifty-one pounds per man per day. In the way of tonnage, 25,071 tons were produced by the 1875 men in the Bisbee district, or 13.4 tons per man per day. Locally the three companies mined 6710 tons, taken by 1,562 men, or only 1.8 tons per man per day. He points out also that, when the men only received $4.50 per shift, their ore produced much heavier than in the average wage at the present strike was $4.12. Conditions at Morenci one-half the men actually produce more than the much richer copper as has been mined at Clifton and Morenci.

MINERS ARE PROSPEROUS.

The oft-repeated argument that another increase in wages must come through the increased price of copper, a close tabulation of the cost of this increase seems to indicate that $4 upon every $100 paid to local married workmen. One interesting item is that the mines in this district in 1915 had earned $1,501,675, and at the present strike had on hand $1,500,000. It is insisted that the wages paid by the copper companies not been excessive, averaging for the Arizona Copper Company 3.33 cents per pound of copper produced. The Shannon Company have received only six-tenths of 1 cent per pound. Attention is called to the fact that the Calumet and Shannon companies have 16,000 stockholders, many of them wage-earners, in the same as many as the employes on strike in this district.

It is said that the Italian element among the strikers is dropping out and, has refused to perform duty and is looking to resumption of work. A large number of miners and mechanics in the district, and only latest reports of union carpenters departing for Deming, where they will assist in the erection of the new smelter.

WOMAN REVEALED IN SUICIDE CASE.

ADMITS SHE SENT MESSAGE OF WARNING ON TRAGEDY.

Former Stenographer in Employ of Lambert Pharmacal Company Declares Victim had Told Her He was Ill and She Urged He Call a Doctor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Aug. 9.—Miss Alvina Perstrup, until seven months ago a stenographer in the employ of the Lambert Pharmacal Company, today maintained that she was the mysterious woman who called the apartment of Jordan Lambert on the telephone early Tuesday morning and asked the maid if he were well.

This telephone call resulted in the maid going to Lambert's room, where she found him lying mortally wounded. A Coroner's jury today returned a verdict of suicide. Lambert was vice-president of the Lambert Pharmacal Company. Miss Perstrup said that Lambert was her friend, and that, in company with other friends, she had gone with him to cafes. Never, she said, had she gone with him alone.

On Sunday morning, she said, Lambert called her on the telephone and said he was sick. She advised him to get a physician, but he said "That wouldn't do me any good. It's mental worry over Marion." This reference was to Marion Lambert, a brother, now with an ambulance unit in France.

"Early Tuesday morning," said Miss Perstrup, "he called me by telephone and said, 'Oh, I am so sick. I cannot live any longer.' I urged him to call a doctor, but he said, 'No, I cannot do that.' Then he hung up the receiver."

Miss Perstrup said she then called the maid to the telephone and urged her to go to Lambert's room. The maid complied and the suicide was revealed.

PERU REJECTS NEW GERMAN PROPOSAL.

LIMA (Peru) Aug. 9.—The German government has offered to submit the circumstances of the sinking of the Peruvian bark Lorton to a prize court for adjudication. The Peruvian government today refused the offer, declaring that the sinking of the Lorton was unjustified and insisting that the German government pay for damages and make an indemnity.

The Lorton, a British official statement, February 7, declared, was sunk by a German submarine February 5 inside Spanish territorial waters. On February 8 the Peruvian government made a demand upon Germany for reparation and indemnity and for the punishment of those responsible for the sinking of the bark. On February 15 Germany replied to the Peruvian protest and announced that an investigation was under way.

FRANCHISE REFORM BILL FOR TEUTONS.

Does Your "Home Garden" Really Save Money?

"Hello," said the Teller to a small boy. "It's a long time since I saw you. Where have you been?"

"Home gardening," said the boy. "I put all my nickels into seed when school was going, now I'm gardening.

"I put my bank in the kitchen. Every time Mother cuts two heads of lettuce out in the garden, she puts in a nickel. A mess of string beans is a dime.

"I have three lawns I cut regularly. See this half dollar? I got that climbin' a tree to get down an old maid's cat.

"Gee whiz, I bought fifty cents' worth of seeds for that garden and I worked on it nights and mornings all spring, and now do you suppose I'm going to let it all go for nothing?"

"Lots of people do," said the Teller.

"My father says that ain't patriotic," said the boy. "He says it isn't saving unless you put the money where the Nation can use it, either in Liberty Bonds or in business, like a bank. He says that too many people have meatless meals, and then buy ice cream with more'n they saved."

SULLIVAN TO FIGHT LOPEZ.

Rising Youngster is Going Very Well.

New Fight Club is to Open Tomorrow.

Herb Brodie and Mike Doll Next Week.

BY LEEPSON BOWNES.

That rising young lightweight, Frankie Sullivan, will shave off his white whiskers, remove his false teeth and attempt to prove that his knockout of Methuselah in 847 B. C. was no fluke. Our weatherbeaten friend tackles Joe Lopez in the windup at Venice tonight.

There are two theories about Sullivan, one that he himself invented the art of taking them on the nose, and the other that one of his grandchildren invented this great sport and that Frankie merely took it up to show the boys a good time.

Having licked Young Frisco and Frankie Gage and fought a fierce four-round draw with Muff Bronson, all in the space of eight days, Sullivan feels that he is just about ripe to polish off a tough guy like Lopez in about two rounds and expects to that little thing.

Cliff Jordan and Kid Savage, two tough middleweights, will meet in a semi-windup which promises plenty of excitement. Jitney Leonard will tackle Joe Arnold at 145 pounds; Leo Lee, the fighting Chinaman, meets Young Christie at 118 pounds, and Jimmy Kearns meets a party with the awe-inspiring moniker of Battling Willie Crooms.

Harry Gilmore seems to have lined up a card of bouts that should please the most exacting fan.

• •

On Saturday.

The fight bugs will just have time to come home for breakfast, drop downtown for their weekly or weakly pay check, and then flop into a seat at the Empress Theater to witness the christening of the new fight club, which proposes to stage bouts every Saturday evening on the Spring-street stage.

Steve Dalton is out to show the local recruiting officers that they are all wrong when he meets Mike Golindo, welterweight champion of the navy, in the main event. The officials refused to accept Steve for the navy and he proposes to show them that he can lick the best man of his weight in the fleet even if he has got a tin ear and flat feet.

To put the matter mildly, Steve is a very unpleasant character to meet in the ring. He has a nasty way of jamming his first into his opponent's stomach with a terrific smack and nobody can take what he hands out and get much enjoyment out of it.

Young Brown, the Mexican windmill, who had all the breeze taken out of his sails by Frankie Farren Tuesday night, is up and around again and proposes to make Ralph Lincoln jump out of the ring in the semi-windup. We have an idea that Ralph will jump, but in the other direction.

Tommy McMahon, otherwise known as Bob Fitzsimmons II, will attempt to make up for his defeat at the hands of Joe Lopez a couple of weeks ago. On that occasion McMahon manifestly wasn't in condition and it is to be hoped that he is taking better care of himself now.

Ted Frenchie will take on Young Golindo and Tommy O'Brien will waltz and hug with Jimmy Brown, whether Jimmy wants to grapple or not. There will also be another event, the principals in which have not yet been chosen.

• •

Staggers.

Jack Doyle announces that Herb Brodie, the battling bandmaster of the United States Navy, will fight in his main event next Tuesday night against Mike Doll. Receiving Hospital attendants, please take notice.

AUSTIN TO COACH THE SAINTS AGAIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Charles Austin, former Stanford Rugby football player, will return to Santa Clara University as football coach next fall, according to announcement today by Father H. L. Walsh, moderator of athletics. There was a report that Austin had enlisted in the California Field Artillery regiment. Santa Clara will play Rugby again this year and is figuring on the big game with Stanford on Thanksgiving Day. Austin coached last year's Santa Clara team, which won the first victory ever recorded by the Catholic institution over Stanford.

GRAND CIRCUIT IS SHORT ON STARCH.

STIFF COMPETITION IS NOT FORTHCOMING.

But when Peter Schuyler and Miss Harris M., Favorites, Finish Beyond the Big Money There is Something for Gallery to Talk About.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLUMBUS (O.) Aug. 9.—Three regular events were raced today, in addition to the unfinished 2:15 pace and in contrast to the stiff competition of other days, not a single winner was forced to go an extra heat to take down his purse. There was rather a warm argument in the free-for-all pace in the last heat, when Russell Boy's onrush made Jamison touch Single G with the whip to win, but outside of that there was no doubt as to the decision.

The stand saw two favorites lose when Peter Schuyler, a favorite in the 2:18 trot, finished outside the money, and Miss Harris M., second choice early in the auctions, was bid up to the favorite position before the race started, only to drop the free-for-all and finish third in her first start of the year.

Lu Princeton, winner in the 2:15 trot, was a first choice. Peter G, in the 2:15 pace, of which one heat was aced Wednesday, kept on gogoing goo today and won in straight heats.

Strachan and Inman Finish on Credit Side.

Mary Browne's Drives Can't be Stopped.

Molla Bjurstedt Finds Them Puzzling.

SOUTHAMPTON (N. Y.) Aug. 9.—John P. Strachan and Frank C. Inman were the winners of the principal match in the invitation tennis doubles at the Meadow Club today. They defeated S. Howard Voshell and F. C. Baggs, the Westchester winners, 11-9, 4-6, 6-2.

Miss Mary K. Browne and Mrs. Robert H. Williams, the California pair, who formerly held the national doubles championship, won the East vs. West match in the paired event. They defeated Miss Molla Bjurstedt and Mrs. Rawson Wood in three sets, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. The sharp driving of Miss Browne carried her side to victory. Miss Bjurstedt was erratic, misjudging drives.

John R. Strachan and F. C. Inman won their second doubles match of the day by defeating Dr. William Rosenbaum, national indoor doubles champion, paired with L. A. Mahan. The score was 6-2, 6-3.

S. H. Voshell, national indoor champion in the singles, beat F. B. Alexander, internationalist, in the singles. Voshell was too fast for his opponent and won, 6-2, 6-2.

ATHLETES WANTED FOR THE ARTILLERY.

Nye Williams is out with a wild plea for a bunch of athletes to join the two batteries of the Second California Field Artillery. These batteries, better known as the "Grizzlies," will mobilize at Exposition Park Saturday afternoon and will proceed to Tanforan, near San Francisco, for intensive training before active service.

According to Williams there is room for about thirty men before Lieut. A. W. Bergevin, temporarily in command, closes up the lists. Among the noted athletes now on the rolls are Larry Cowing, State golf champion; W. G. Devereaux and Courtney Ford, polo demons; Montana Kid and Joe Romado, a pair of rough riders, and six Redlands University football players.

OXNARD HUNTSMEN HAVE BETTER LUCK.

Oxnard hunters returning within the last few days have been more successful than early season hunters, or those who did not go so far back into the hills. M. C. DeBrell and Julian Sharp brought in a fine buck, and a party composed of Villem Lagomarsino, Art Caldwell, William and John Thompson and Bob Wingate, returned from the Aberdine country with three good-sized deer, one each for Caldwell, Lagomarsino and Wingate, and W. English, Joe Silva and Joe Oliver had the distinction of bringing in the first deer of the season to Oxnard, on the fourth day of the season. The party hunted in the Santa Ynez region and secured two bucks. Harry Gill secured one in the hills north of Fillmore.

PICK TEMPLETON TO COACH CARDS.

Stanford will have "Ric" Templeton in harness to manufacture a Rugby machine to inflict defeat upon Santa Clara in the big game scheduled for Thanksgiving Day in San Francisco. The versatile Palo Alto youth has already shown his qualifications as a coach by leading the Cardinal track team to victory over California. In October he will have all the confidence back of him that he needs, when he steps into the berth filled for many seasons by that marvelous full-back, Floyd Brown.

HUNTERS AWAIT THIN MOON.

Fish and game deputies are reporting daily as to the coming and going of birds and beasts. Some of yesterday's findings were:

With the moon getting thinner every night now, the ensuing week is sure to see some really good deer hunting. Rather to everyone's surprise, many bucks cropped their last grass the first week of the season despite the unfavorable conditions.

Doves are working south fast; not half as many were seen in San Luis Obispo county as a month ago.

Bandtail pigeons are coming in already in the oak flats, and the quail crop is enormous, but they are in bad, brushy country now.

DOVES WILL FALL.

Although there is no affidavit proviso for the bringing of any game but deer from open into closed districts, quite a popping of guns will be heard about Willow Springs up Mojave way Saturday evening and Sunday if half the small-bore cranks who have promised themselves trips get into action. The limit of doves is but fifteen, and any good man could eat that many raw, so why sneak 'em home?

WOMEN MANAGE GARAGES NOW.

Women are going into the automobile game. They're running garages and oil stations. In The Times Pink Sheet, Sunday, you will find an interesting feature story describing the kinds of work they're doing. Scores of other special features, including all of the latest news of the auto world and everything that's worth while in sports, will also be found in the same section.

BARNEY OLDFIELD BREAKS RECORD.

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Aug. 9.—Barney Oldfield broke all records from one to fifty miles for the one-mile dirt track at Maxwelton race track today.

Oldfield drove the mile in 45s., taking 1.20 seconds off the previous record. Two seconds were taken off the two-mile record; ten seconds off the third mile; twelve seconds off the five-mile and twenty seconds off the ten-mile. The twenty-five miles were made in 19:57:60, against the old mark of 20:28:80, and the full fifty miles were made in 40:57:60, against 40:57:80.

Argument.

DENY CATALINA IS SPAWNING GROUND.

COMMERCIAL FISHERMEN ARE PUTTING UP FIGHT.

Protection of Game Fish Around the Island Depends Upon its Status as a Spawning Ground and Commission's Patrol Boat is Making Survey of Situation.

Catalina's position as a spawning ground has been challenged, and in the combat that seems inevitable lies the fate of the island as a center for game fishermen.

The commercial fisheries interests of Southern California have issued the challenge, declaring that Catalina is not a spawning ground. Back of their declaration is the statement that more than $10,000,000 worth of fish business was handled during the past year. The State of California, through the Fish and Game Commission, is now engaged in determining whether this district is a spawning ground, and whether the now-existing laws against net fishing are justified.

This is the information given out in San Francisco by Carl Westerfield, chief executive of the Fish and Game Commission, upon his return to San Francisco from a lengthy Southern California visit.

It is to determine just how great a spawning ground lies around Catalina waters that the State commission has detailed a deputy to carry on extensive investigation. The chartered patrol boat has already been two weeks off Southern California, studying the conditions that justify existing anti-seining legislation, and at the same time, apprehending fishermen who are caught violating these laws.

CHINESE PRESIDENT GAINS RECOGNITION.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PEKING, Aug. 9.—All the foreign ministers in Peking, including Paul May, the new Belgian Minister, have recognized the Peking government by calling on Feng Kwo Chang, in response to an invitation issued by the Foreign Office, which designated Feng Kwo Chang as President. The official documents also now call Feng President and not acting President.

Eighteen provisional Governors have approved a plan calling for a provisional national council to act as a parliament, which probably will be convened October 1. Negotiations are pending for a compromise with the disgruntled southern provinces.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Tang Shao Yi and other leaders at Canton have been unable to convene a quorum of the old Parliament. Only twelve members of it are there now, but twenty-five others are on the way.

Four cruisers are at Canton and three others are on the way there to support the southern government, but the troops in Canton loyal to the Peking government number 45,000, as against 8000 troops supporting the south.

MINERS AT GALLUP THREATEN TROUBLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—The resources of the United Mine Workers of America are behind the efforts of representatives of the organization at Gallup, N. M., to force maintenance of the contract entered into between the New Mexico mine workers and the Victor-American Fuel Company, whose properties recently were transferred to the copper interests, according to telegrams sent to the representatives at Gallup today by John P. White, international president of the miners' organization.

Mr. White declared that "fair wages and honest working conditions must be maintained, as provided for in the agreement, if peace is to be assured."

He issued an emphatic denial tonight that William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, or any other official of the organization, is affiliated with the I.W.W. movement.

BASEBALL NOTES

Jack Knight is off the staff for the present. Jack has been working hard, and the strain has proved too much for him. He will be given a rest, and will probably be back in the game in a few days. Knight has been pitching good ball for the Angels since he has been with the team.

When last seen, Knight was resting at his home in Whittier. He was not feeling well, and decided to take a few days off. He is expected to be back in the game in a few days.

Police Drag Slip at the Harbor in Vain Hunt for the Body of High School Instructor in Navigation and Mathematics, Missing Since Wednesday.

Edward Herbert Inslee, professor of navigation and mathematics at the San Pedro High School, is missing, and it is believed he was drowned while bathing in the Pacific slip at East San Pedro Wednesday night.

That afternoon he left his home at No. 136 North Mesa street, where his parents also reside. He took his bathing suit with him. Yesterday morning his clothes and blanket were found on the beach at the head of the slip. He was perhaps last seen alive by W. A. Train, a watchman, who observed him asleep on the beach about 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

Upon the finding of his clothing the police were notified, and began dragging the slip for his body, without success.

Mr. Inslee, 22 years of age and unmarried, became a member of the faculty of the San Pedro High School three years ago. He came here from Stanford University, from which he graduated.

DIES AS HE NEARS CENTURY MARK.

FORMER OREGON LEGISLATOR PASSES TO REST.

Crossed Plains by Overland Route from Iowa in the Early Sixties and at One Time was Extensively Engaged in Cattle and Horse Business at Baker City.

As peacefully as a child sinking into slumber, William C. Hindman, who was within four years of the century mark, passed into his final rest yesterday at his home, No. 471 West Forty-seventh place. Services will be held in the Moneta-avenue funeral chapel at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the body will be placed in the mausoleum at Inglewood Cemetery.

Besides the widow, Mr. Hindman leaves four children, W. W. Hindman, an attorney of this city; Frank Hindman of Alberta, Can.; Mrs. Phila A. Kaiser of Wolfer, Idaho, and Miss Grace Hindman of Oakland.

Mr. Hindman was born in Kecanning, Armstrong county, Pennsylvania, April 30, 1821. His ancestry runs back to the revolutionary period. While he was a child his parents removed with him to Youngstown, O., and there his youth was spent. He was educated in the public schools and an academy, and in 1850 went to Council Bluffs, Iowa, to engage in business. In 1863 he took the overland route across the plains to Oregon. He settled at Baker City and became widely engaged in the raising of horses and cattle, and the owner of extensive ranch lands. He was a prominent figure in Oregon affairs, and served that State as a legislator and in various minor offices. He was a lifelong Democrat.

Mr. Hindman was married in 1853 to Sarah Kyle of Iowa, and to this union eight children were born. Some years after the death of Mrs. Hindman, he married Mrs. Tollie Mounts Diuthitt, in Baker City. They came to Los Angeles about two years ago.

CITY OFFICERS ON THE TAPIS.

Power Chiefs will Appear in Contempt Proceedings.

Dispute with Gas Company to Reach a Head Today.

Wires not Moved when Court Ordered, 'Tis Said.

E. F. Scattergood, chief electrical engineer, and member of the Board of Public Service Commissioners of this city are cited to appear at 10 o'clock this morning in Judge Jackson's court to show cause why they should not be fined for contempt of court. The action was brought by Attorney H. C. Beach of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and defendants must explain why the primary and secondary wires of the city power lines have not been removed from proximity to certain Los Angeles Gas and Electric wires.

The action was originally brought to compel the city to give the local company room between its wires to comply with city regulations. The gas corporation's wires are said to have a priority right and the city was ordered to remove its wires. An injunction was granted by Judge York.

Then an ordinance was passed by the city requiring all public utility corporations to remove wires "whenever in the opinion of the Board of Public Works it became necessary in order that municipal street lights could be constructed."

This caused inconvenience to the local corporation and a complaint was filed in the Federal Court setting forth that such an ordinance was unconstitutional.

Judge Bledsoe then rendered a decision in which the "equal rights of all corporations and special privileges for none" policy was emphasized. It was decided by Judge Bledsoe that such an ordinance is unconstitutional and the city officials were told that the municipality must abide by the same conditions, when in the business of selling a commodity, as any other corporation.

Following this decision the city moved its high-tension line on York boulevard to another location. The primary and secondary wires, it is alleged, were not moved, however, and it is these wires that, it is said, the injunction was aimed against.

Now it is alleged the city officials are liable for contempt because they allowed the wires to remain.

MOLAKAN SLACKERS ARE SENT TO JAIL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 9.—Nine Molakans, members of a Russian religious sect colonized near Glendale were fined $25 each and sentenced to twenty-five days' imprisonment in the County Jail for participating in draft riots here yesterday. The draft objectors made the occasion of the trial of thirty-five of their countrymen on a charge of failure to register for the selective draft, an excuse for parading the streets, shrieking and yelling defiance of the government. Prayers during which the white-clad Molakans stood in the middle of the street blocking traffic, were also a feature of their protest against enforced military service.

On "Dependent" Grounds.

MUCH MEN STAND SMALL SHOW TO ESCAPE DRAFT.

Important Indications as to Position of the Appellate Board.

THE five boards sitting on exemption yesterday, forty-three applications other than those of aliens or others automatically exempted were passed upon. Forty-nine were allowed, seventy-six refused and five held for further investigation.

Important indications of the attitude of the Federal Exemption Board of Appeals for this district to those who ask to be excused from army service developed at yesterday session of the board—its first official one—at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. These may be summed as follows:

The only "dependent" pleas likely to be entertained are of those who would actually leave women or children probable charges upon the community. This means that rich men have no chance on such a plea, but that the cases of the very poor will be carefully considered.

The only occupational pleas that will avail will be those of men engaged in life is continuously essential to the prosecution of the war, by which means that agriculturalists whose only duty during the war is harvesting their growing crops, substitutes are likely to be found for men claiming exemption on industrial grounds.

Medical students may possibly be exempted if it appears that the country needs doctors more than it needs soldiers.

There will be no re-examinations allowed, no private talks, no executive sessions. All affidavits and other papers filed will be open to the public record.

The result of the session was a surprise to the exemption. A. J. Hill, Presbyterian minister of the gospel, considered the board that it was necessary for him to leave at once for Europe where he will engage in missionary work. He received his exemption and his order for passport.

UNIFORM ACTION.

Thomas W. Holabird announced that action on further appeals for exemptions will be deferred until the meeting of the Federal Board of California in the Governor's office at Sacramento next week. Gov. Stephens has sent a letter to each of the Federal exemption boards to meet with him at that time in order that there may be uniform action in relation to industrial and agricultural exemptions.

Col. Holabird is plainly the iron man on the local board. He served in his youth both in the army and navy during the Civil War and he announces without hesitation that the honor of the United States is at stake and slackers should understand from the outset that no personal or family consideration will apply.

"We shall, of course, be guided by the concensus of opinion expressed at the Governor's conference on Wednesday," said Col. Holabird, "but I am willing to state my position right now. Where agricultural exemptions are asked I shall favor granting them only until such time as the applicant shall have harvested his growing crops. The same will apply to industrial occupations; an applicant will be granted exemption only until such time as a substitute can be drilled to take his place."

During the session a representative of the Pacific Electric Railway called upon the board of advice. More than 200 employees of that corporation have been drafted. President Shoup was quoted as saying that he considered four or five of these as essential to the operation of the company's lines, at least until substitutes should be secured.

"If the conscription took but a few we could and would replace them," said President Shoup's representative, "but when it is a question of 200 or 3000 we should like time to make provision for replacing a few of the men."

Members of the board were plainly impressed that so few exemptions would be asked by the company. Col. Holabird said that each application would have to be considered individually and that the management of the company might submit affidavits in connection with the application.

Scores of requests for re-examination were made. The board announced as a fixed policy that none will be granted. The one hope of an appellant is to get affidavits from a number of physicians that some physical defect has been disregarded by the local examining board.

Medical students have a friend in the person of Dr. Ball, a member of the board. He called the attention of the other members to the fact that there are but 90,000 physicians who are members of the American Medical Association and that only 54,000 of these are available

THE following lists give the names and addresses of the 1849 men examined and accepted yesterday in Southern California for the selective draft. Five hundred and ninety-seven were physically disqualified, 710 asked for exemption, 433 did not ask for exemption, 113 were automatically exempted and 165 failed to appear. In every case the star appearing before a name indicates that its owner did not ask for exemption. Vice versa, wherever the star does not appear, that man asks to be excused from army service. Ninety-nine out of 100 of such pleas are on the ground of dependent relatives.

Club President Arrested in North.

Mrs. Louise Johnson,

President of Thee Beautiful Club, who was arrested yesterday in San Francisco on the complaint of a dance hall owner here. He says she gave him a worthless check for the use of his hall for a club dance.

By Dance-hall Man.

NOTED BEAUTY ACCUSED OF PASSING BAD CHECK.

THREATS to turn out the lights at the annual ball of the Thee Beautiful Club were blamed directly for the arrest yesterday of the club president, Mrs. Louise Johnson, in San Francisco. A deputy sheriff left Los Angeles last night to bring Mrs. Johnson back to this city to answer a charge of passing a fictitious check.

Mrs. Johnson, who once won a cup here for her beauty, was arrested in San Francisco on a complaint issued by P. H. Goldberg, proprietor of the Goldberg-Bosley Assembly Hall, Sixteenth and Flower streets. Mr. Goldberg stated last night that Mrs. Johnson had passed a worthless check, amounting to $65, on him in exchange for the use of the dance hall on the night of June 21. At this ball the Mayor was represented by his secretary, Rev. Glenn McWilliams, present as the guest of honor. He delivered an address on the occasion.

Mr. Goldberg stated last night that the ball was held in grand style. It was an invitational affair and the admittance fee was $1 per ticket. When the affair was nearing its close, Mr. Goldberg approached Mrs. Johnson and asked his pay for the use of the hall.

He says Mrs. Johnson told him she did not have enough money to pay the evening expenses. Mr. Goldberg moved toward the switchboard and threatened to turn out the lights in the presence of the gay party. Though angered, Mrs. Johnson is said to have produced a check book. She filled out a check for $65 and handed it to Mr. Goldberg, the latter says, who then permitted the dance to continue on its merry way. Fifty dollars was paid for the use of the dance floor, $5 for the bowl of punch and $10 for the maids and other help. Mr. Goldberg said the musicians were given a check for $21, but this was not involved in the complaint.

Mr. Goldberg attempted to cash the check, but he said the bank refused to honor it. He visited Mrs. Johnson at the clubrooms, he said, but she refused to pay him cash. He then lodged the complaint against her in Justice Hanby's court. She was located in San Francisco and arrested on a telegraphic order from Constable Roger Woodbury of this city. Mrs. Nettie Yaw, a deputy sheriff, left last night for San Francisco to bring the club president to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Johnson was arrested at the fashionable Hotel Whitcomb by Detective Sergeant David Murphy and booked at the city prison as a prisoner en route to Los Angeles. Although Mrs. Johnson refused to be interviewed, she told Detective Murphy that she knew who was at the bottom of the trouble. "I am not worrying. It was simply a matter of overdrawing my account," she said.

A curious feature of the case is that Mrs. Johnson last night informed the San Francisco police that her husband is A. W. Jones, an automobile salesman of this city. The only salesman of that name in the city directory is listed as residing at No. 212 North Grand avenue. He could not be reached last night.

SHOE SALESMEN DINE.

Association, Only Two Months Old, Holds Its First Banquet with Large Attendance — Plans for Early Closing on Saturdays Favored.

The Los Angeles Retail Shoe Salesmens' Association was organized two months ago to promote closer co-operation with the various owners, and a better unity among the salesmen themselves. Last night the first banquet of the new organization was given at the Union League Club with 260 members attending. Led by G. C. Boswell, toastmaster, several leading shoe owners of Los Angeles announced the willingness to assist the employees in bettering general conditions, particularly regarding the need for closing at 6 o'clock Saturday nights.

R. A. Baker, F. E. White, George A. King, and representatives of the Wetherby-Keyser, Emil Olcovich, Vandergrift and other companies spoke in favor of the movement. W. K. Fleischman, secretary, told of the progress made in two short months. Cad Goodrich is the president.

After the banquet four boxing bouts furnished by Jack Doyle were enjoyed.

Loren B. Handley was the speaker of the evening.

TREE EXPERTS ARRIVE.

Lights Out.

REGAN, PAST EXALTED RULER OF ELKS, DEAD.

THE final call came yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock for Edward A. Regan, Past Exalted Ruler of Lodge 99, B.P.O.E., former brilliant orator and onetime attorney of prominence here. His death came as a result of paresis. When, during the latter part of the year, his condition became such that his brother Elks proposed to send him to a sanatorium, examining physicians declared the case hopeless. Soon thereafter he was taken to the State Hospital at Norwalk, and it was there that he died.

The body is now at the mortuary of Booth & Boylson, but it will be sent to Dorchester, Mass., for burial. The mother and a brother of the deceased reside there. He had no relatives in this city.

Mr. Regan was 40 years of age and unmarried. He came from the East to Los Angeles several years ago, and immediately formed many warm friendships and proved his ability in his chosen profession. For some time he was Deputy United States District Attorney. In 1912 he was elected Exalted Ruler of 99. He was also a member of the Knights of Columbus.

It is probable that the Elks will arrange for a public service in memory of their departed brother before the body is shipped to the East.

Aftermath.

DIVORCE CAPS TRAGEDY RAID.

Wife of W. H. Cole, Who Slew Detective, Files Suit.

Infidelity, Nonsupport and Drug Habit Alleged.

Plaintiff Sorry for Husband Facing Murder Trial.

Mrs. Blanche Dongan Cole, wife of William H. Cole, the broker who shot and killed O. C. Firman, a private detective, on the night of last July 15, filed suit for divorce yesterday. The complaint, which is rather voluminous and specifies Mr. Cole's alleged transgressions in minute detail, is based upon the grounds of failure to provide, infidelity and addiction to drugs. Mrs. Cole's attorney is Raymond E. Hoyt.

The action is the sequel to the tragic occurrence at the apartments of the Misses Eva and Jean Chapman at the Wallace, No. 1122 Georgia street, wherein Mr. Firmin lost his life during a raid by himself and co-detectives at the behest of Mrs. Cole. The latter was in quest of evidence of her husband's alleged violation of his marriage vows, and accompanied the investigators to the Wallace apartments, to which Cole and the young woman had been trailed. Shooting ensued almost immediately after Miss Eva Chapman had opened the door of her apartment. Mr. Firman was shot by Cole, and died in the police ambulance on the way to the Receiving Hospital. Cole fled to his own home, but finally was induced to submit to arrest.

A Coroner's jury exonerated Cole, returning a verdict that he had fired in self-defense. However, formal charges of murder were filed against him in Justice Hinshaw's court, and last week he was placed under $10,000 bonds for jury trial in the Superior Court.

The impression prevailed a few days after the fatal shooting that Mrs. Cole had decided to abandon her contemplated action for divorce and would stand by her husband during his criminal trial.

"As a matter of fact, however," said the wife at her home, No. 1109 Magnolia avenue, last evening, "I never had any intention of dropping my plans for a divorce. The fact that my husband shot and killed Mr. Firman merely had delayed the formal entry of the case. I was sorry for Mr. Cole in his predicament. I am sorry for him yet. But that is his own lookout. He made his own bed; he must lie in it. I shall not now allow his approaching trial on a charge of murder to interfere with my civil suit. The cases are separate and distinct. The trouble has extended over three years, and, while the tragedy was its culmination, it has not swerved me from my purpose. Any wife would be sorry for her husband facing trial for murder, and I am, even with all he has done against me; but beyond that my determination to be free from him is absolute."

In addition to failure to properly provide for his family, Cole is charged with undue intimacy with other women. The divorce complaint makes reference to the Firman tragedy and of the presence of the husband in the apartment of the Misses Chapman. Cole also is said to be addicted to the use of drugs, which had made his family's home life with him intolerable, the wife alleges.

"But he never was cruel to me in the common form," declared Mrs. Cole. "He never struck me or in any other way was physically violent to me."

Cole and his wife were married at Denver twenty-three years ago. She was Blanche Dougan, daughter of a banker in that city, where she was born, and also was a special writer for the Denver papers and eastern magazines. The couple have a daughter 22 years old.

HEART ATTACK GOES DOUBLE.

Turned Down by Draft Board, Man Immediately Gets Marriage License.

Elmer R. King has a heart which works both ways. Although his heart was in such condition that the examining physicians wouldn't accept him for military service, it was strong enough to cause him to be romantic.

When he was turned down by the draft doctors yesterday he called Miss Florence Hemenway, No. 3905 Dalton avenue, on the telephone. He told her of his bad luck and asked her to come downtown. She came and they secured a marriage license and will be married Tuesday evening.

They will leave soon for the Philippine Islands, where he will teach school.

MARTIAL MAN DIES.

Merrifield, Who Had a Recruiting Plan Here and Said He Fought in Latin-America, Succumbs on a Trip to Inspect Kern County Mines.

I. N. Merrifield, a Los Angeles man of military leanings, who became well known here because of a plan for recruiting a home guard force in 1915, was found dead in bed yesterday at Brown, Kern county, where he had gone to inspect mining property. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Mr. Merrifield told friends here that he had campaigned in Venezuela and Mexico, and had held a brigadier-general's commission. In Mexico, he said, he was known as Del Campo, and was opposed to Gen. Huerta's forces.

The cause of death has not been fixed.

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Hippodrome.

The bill at the Hippodrome this week proves to be a merry whirl of mirth, melody, song and a touch of novelty. Belmont and Layton secured at the last minute to replace a disappointment prove a judicious choice with a clever novelty offering of songs, talk and gymnastics.

The Florence Duo have a routine of sleight-of-hand and magic, which is new and refreshing. Two clever chaps are Newport and Stirk, who have a good line of chatter and dances. John West, the Musical Brownie, has a novel and pleasing act. A reminder of our class graduation days is found in the neat little offering, "Our Career," presented by Edna Heise and company. Ives, Farnsworth and Weaver are a singing trio of excellent quality. Completing the programme the Bijou Minstrel Maids supply fifteen minutes of thorough enjoyment in every particular.

Pantages.

We may all be Gullivers in Lilliputia at Pantages this week. Just manage to shipwreck yourself a few ports N.N.W. of Mercantile place, with 10 cents in your pocket, and you can't miss the enchanted island.

Your first glimpse of Singer's Midgets, who are the smallest people in the world for their height, gives the sensation of viewing a lively vaudeville show through the wrong end of the glasses. Sidewalk acts, musical comedy tabs, animal trainers, boxers, cowboys and girls, hula-hula dancers—all on the scale of three inches to the foot—are sure to amuse.

There are a number of things about the Three Romances you're sure to like. They are exceedingly graceful and well-trained dancers. And they stop before you can get tired of them, which is unusual. Harry Antrim offers a selection of "Things You've Heard and Things You Haven't." Betsy Vale is the scenery for this act.

A boy pianist with Paderewski fingers and an Eddie Canter voice, and a girl soprano offer some musical moments. Zethro's dogs start the real show after Correna Grant has been neglected by Roland Bottomley in two reels.

TAX BILL INJURES COAST SHIPPERS.

WAR REVENUE MEASURE IS CALLED DISCRIMINATIVE.

Would Levy Assessment Upon Bills of Lading, Whereas Fairer Plan Would be Upon a Tonnage Basis or Invoice Values—Chamber Acts.

One clause of a section in the war revenue bill now before the United States Senate discriminates against the Pacific Coast through the levying of a 3 per cent. war revenue tax on bills of lading.

This virtually is a tax on mileage and for short hauls having a freight tariff of $20 per car at 3 per cent., would give a revenue of 60 cents, while a tariff of $300 per car on the same article at 3 per cent. would be $9, or 1500 per cent. more. The result would be that shippers on the Pacific Coast would pay 75 per cent. of the tax if placed on bills of lading.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has authorized the secretary to urge the California Senators to insert an amendment to the bill, placing the tax on a tonnage basis, or invoice values, rather than on the bills of lading.

The chamber also has urged all commercial organizations on the Coast to take similar action, so that there will be equality of taxation for all shippers, whether East or West.

At the request of the chamber the Jobbers' Association also has wired the California Senators to introduce and support such an amendment.

Hens Shake Berries for Chicks.

[Petersburg (Ind.) correspondence New York World:] The high cost of living is not interfering with welfare of some chickens south of this city. W. E. Treanor, superintendent of the city school, and Harry Carpenter, an attorney, were canvassing for the Red Cross fund recently and in crossing a field they saw a large mulberry tree with great numbers of little chickens under it. In the top were several old hens that flew from limb to limb, shaking the berries off to the chicks below.

LABORS OF HERCULES.

OLIVER MOROSCO WORKS HARD ON NEW PRODUCTIONS.

By Grace Kingsley.

Just as active as if the thermometer wern't bursting itself trying to register how hot the weather is these days, and just as if the high temperature had the same limbering effect on him that it has on a baseball player, Manager Oliver Morosco is working from sunrise to sundown, and sometimes from sundown to sunrise, rewriting plays, rehearsing new offerings, dealing out actors to his various companies and performing the thousand and one necessary acts incident to his career as one of the brotherhood of big theatrical producers.

As a matter of fact, the season just opening promises to be the most successful Mr. Morosco has ever enjoyed. On the road, or in New York, Chicago or Boston, will be two "So Long, Letty" companies, two companies playing "The Brat," one playing "Canary Cottage," one "Upstairs and Down" company, one "Lombardi, Ltd.," one "That Day," one "What Next?" and one "Just a Suggestion." As for that deathless migratory creature, "The Bird of Paradise," which appears merely to grow lusher with the passing of the years, there will be two organizations touring the country in the Tully play, while that changeless child, "Peg o' My Heart," will be represented in four different companies.

Mr. Morosco expects to return to New York in about three weeks to start his new productions on the way, but declares he has no intention of spending the entire winter there. According to present plans he will return to this city in October and will at once again commence work in the producing field.

Various new plays have been chosen, not only for their intrinsic merits, but as vehicles to exploit the talents of certain players, both men and women, in whose inherent ability Mr. Morosco has faith.

Among these new plays to be produced is the "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley," adapted from the novel of Belle K. Maniteas by Mrs. C. A. Doremus and Leonidas Westervelt. In this play Nancy Fair, who is playing a small part in "That Day," is to have an opportunity to display her talents. Mr. Morosco believes he has found a real genius in the young woman.

"When Miss Fair came to my office in New York a few weeks ago," said Mr. Morosco, "I had never seen her before. She looked up and said: 'Mr. Morosco, I don't look like anything but I should love to show you what I can do.' I complied, and she amazed me with her cleverness. 'Are you ready to hop on the train and go to Los Angeles?' I asked her, and she declared she was. She and her mother arrived here shortly after I did."

Minna Gombel, who greatly resembles Martha Hedman, by the way, and who is now rehearsing "The Cinderella Man," will likewise be exploited in a new play. While not definitely decided, Mr. Morosco is seriously considering a new play by Edward Charles Carpenter, entitled "Jack in the Box," as Miss Gombel's vehicle, in which she will be sent to New York.

Two new leading men are now on their way from New York to replace Warner Baxter, who scored so big an individual hit in "Lombardi, Ltd." that he is to be sent to New York to appear in the metropolitan production of that play, and Richard Dix.

"I'm not mentioning the names of these men for a very good reason," said Mr. Morosco. "I don't know their names. My New York manager fails to mention their names in his telegram; but I have absolute faith in his judgment."

Richard Dix, who is a great favorite here, is likewise to be starred in a new comedy; but in the meantime he is to have his heart's desire, viz.: He will play the leading role in "His Majesty Bunker Bean," which will shortly go into rehearsal.

"Sadie Love" is to be produced as a musical comedy, under the title, "A Full Honeymoon," following Mr. Morosco's return from New York in October. No less a person than Dr. Goetzy, one of the conductors of the New York Metropolitan Opera Company, is engaged in writing the music, which is to be of the Viennese school, while Mr. Morosco himself is writing the book.

"What Next" is reported as a tremendous success on tour, it having played to a real metropolitan audience in Santa Barbara. Mr. Morosco literally worked night and day during two weeks rewriting the entire book after the pattern of "The Pretty Mrs. Smith."

The first act of "Just a Suggestion," Harold Selman's new play featuring Charles Ruggles, is also being entirely rewritten by Mr. Morosco and Mr. Selman in collaboration. This act as it will come forth will introduce a new and vital sub-plot which immensely heightens the interest and suspense of the whole story.

Betty Brice, whose work in "That Day" immediately placed her high in public favor, is to replace Sue McNamany, who goes to New York with "Lombardi, Ltd."

Frankness Note.

The gay and festive Trixie Friganza, at the Orpheum, carelessly let a birthday sneak up on her yesterday. Trixie's sister, who is as domestic as Trixie isn't, seeing that it was too late to ward off natal day festivities, allowed she'd make a cake for Trixie.

"Do you want candles on it?" she thoughtfully inquired.

Understudies the Sammies.

After all, the soldiers don't have all the hardships. Take the gentle-souled Al Jolson, for instance, who asks for nothing more exciting in life than to be allowed to swat a little ball over the landscape. And now, for the first time in his career, he's got to play all the one-night stands Jake Shubert ever learned from his geography at school.

"Talk about war," said Jolson, wiping away a tear as he gazed at the list of kerosene towns, "if this isn't conscription, what is it? And sore feet and phoney eyes and lack of teeth won't let a fellow off it, either. Say, but look at this one—Battle Creek! That makes it all right. That's where the grapenuts grew, and the shredded wheat is chased to its lair. There's a sanatorium there, and while the patients will probably seem to us a tough, rude lot compared to our own condition by the time we get there, still maybe we'll be able to quiet down their riotous wheel-chair roysterings and get some rest, and we shall need it."

Bennie Shows 'Em, B'gosh.

Bennie Suslow, appearing in "Just a Suggestion," at the Majestic, doesn't really want a horse to sleep in his bed, nor yet does he want to sleep in a horse's bed. He just says that in the play. As a matter of fact, Bennie is a real tough guy, who can wallop a baseball or kick the pigskin with the next one. But of course those gallery gods didn't know that.

A bunch of tough youngsters waited in the alley for Bennie to come out of the show last night. One of them hollered. He just said one word. It was his last for several minutes. The fatal word which caused Bennie to give him the high-sign right in the eye was "Sissy!"

"Say that again," said Bennie quietly. The boy obliged. Then it was that Bennie waded in. And today the alley is reported to be quite safe for ladies and children.

All for His Art.

Just as if playing "Hit the Trail" twice a day weren't enough for Austin Webb, who, by the way, brings the playlet back to the Orpheum later on, he is engaged in the pleasant indoor sport of revivaling these days. Webb is spending his vacation at Redondo, and one of his diversions consists in attending a series of revival meetings being held down there in a big tent. He explains he wants to study the mannerisms of revivalists. Of course, this takes time away from his favorite pursuitof 10-cent ante pinocle, still art is art, as he says himself—and, besides, he's $50 ahead anyhow.

The Mystery is Out.

Probably everybody that sees "The Message of the Mouse," at the Palace this week, will wonder how any director ever got a mouse to perform the wonders this one does. Here is the explanation, according to the statement of the p.a., but unaccompanied by an affidavit.

It was absolutely necessary that a live mouse be used, because a mouse is the key to the plot. The Vitagraph director wasted a lot of time before he found a mouse with sufficient histrionic ability to play the role. He tried out many mice, but all ran true to type and out of the picture when the director tried to use them. J. Stuart Blackton, who directed the picture, was almost in despair, until finally he hit on the scheme of setting traps on the stages of several New York theaters. Finally he caught a mouse that had been accustomed to actors and was not afflicted with stage fright. He was therefore used in the picture, and his salary consisted of chocolates, paid to him by Anita Stewart, the star. When Mr. Mouse was first brought into the picture, Miss Stewart without any acting at all registered fear. Later she saw that the mouse was a regular fellow, and she went through the scenes with him without any apprehension. When the picture was finished, the mouse continued to live at a studio—in a cage—and Miss Stewart fed him chocolates regularly until one day his mouseship got out of the cage, and Gasoline, the studio cat, saw him. Alas, that was the end of mousie's career as an actor. Gasoline made him go so fast the mouse was then and there named Jitney. But he never knew it because—another alas! — he never came back.

Burbank Gets Blue Ribbon Act.

Negotiations were closed last night at the Burbank for the engagement of one of the biggest acts on the Bert Levy circuit, which was destined to open in Salt Lake in two weeks and which, laying over in town for a week, has been engaged as an added attraction. It is Art Winstock's miniature musical comedy company, three men and three girls, who have been playing all over the Northwest this season. This is their first western engagement and the Burbank bill is materially strengthened by the addition of this pleasing and tuneful aggregation.

Bowles is Convalescent.

Donald Bowles, who has been engaged as western stage director for Klaw & Erlanger, is rapidly recovering from the attack of pleurisy which has confined him to the Clara Barton Hospital during the past week. As a convalescent, he will spend the next two weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duffield at Glendale.

Chip-of-the-block Note.

David Butler, the promising young actor son of Fred Butler, stage director at the Morosco, will not go to New York with "Lombardi, Ltd." after all. He has decided to remain at the Morosco and take a postgraduate course in acting and directing under the able tuition of his talented pa.

Those Actors will Flit.

Some sprinting is what those talented actors, Jim Corrigan and Harry Duffield, will have to do next Sunday night, when they will commute back and forth from the Majestic to the Morosco. Both are in the first and third acts of "The Cinderella Man" at the Morosco and in the second act of "Just a Suggestion" at the Majestic. So, adjusting their make-ups and such portions of their costumes as the law allows, even as they flee, they will also change their minds, slipping deftly from the present century back into the misty seventeenth.

Comedy Germ Develops.

A private showing of Capt. Leslie T. Peacocke's film comedy, "Intolerants, or the Mother-in-law," at Trinity Auditorium, the other night, while it revealed nothing startlingly brilliant in the comedy itself, showed that its star, Harry Crouch (who left off being a jeweler for a few hours to become a film) has real comedian talent if properly directed.

Balshofer Gets Hurt.

Fred Balshofer, western manager of Metro, was injured in an automobile accident late last Saturday night, when his car collided with another machine at the corner of Vermont and Jefferson streets. Mr. Balshofer is resting easily at his apartment in Hollywood and expects to be about by the end of the week. His car was entirely demolished.

Home Made Patriotism.

"You can't make our soldiers sing any old made-to-order patriotic melody just because it was specially written for them," declared Harry Carroll, the youthful Orpheus of Tin-Pan Alley, who is making a tremendous hit at the Orpheum this week.

It was while in San Francisco, visiting the Presidio last week, Carroll learned the above truth. Not that Carroll was trying to make them sing his own new patriotic song—far from it. In fact, it was only after much urging, and then with the blush of modesty mantling his cheek, the young composer admitted that the "Sammies" were singing his own song, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," as an accompaniment to their arduous labors incident to military training.

That "Carrousel."

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why should a "carrousel"—in plain English, a "merry-go-round"—which is a nuisance not to be tolerated in the Westlake district, be unloaded on the Echo Park district?

In the first place, this infernal device is set up for the purpose of profit to the owner. Is the city of Los Angeles maintaining a park system in order to give private individuals an opportunity to make money? The granting of private concession in a public park is a species of graft relegated to the past in most up-to-date communities. An authority on public recreation, Arthur C. Comey, states: "In the case of concessions there is to be combated the bad American habit of being willing to shirk public duty for private advantage. The idea of the concessionaire must be to give as little as he can for what he gets, whereas the proper idea of civic service is to give as much as is possible for what is received. The giving of such concession is a combination of civic laziness, in capacity and maladministration. The magnificent recreational work of Chicago's South Park system is the best example showing that service can be rendered properly to the people directly by the recreational authorities and not through the funnel of the man who in his own self-interest must pour out a profit."

Experiments in various places have demonstrated that park authorities can handle all the service needed in their parks at a profit which will equal what is gained through concessions and at the same time give the public better and cheaper service.

But the "merry-go-round" has no place in a public park under any conditions. It is a scheme for taking the pennies of children and giving them nerve-wracking excitement and noise in exchange. It furnishes the child no healthful exercise or rational amusement—it is a mitigated nuisance to everybody within hearing of its raucous sound—a cheap, meretricious piece of mechanism that has absolutely no excuse for being.

We are spending large sums in our public schools to cultivate a taste for good music and artistic surroundings in our children; money, time and much effort is expended by public-spirited citizens to provide symphony and "popular" concerts for the public which shall familiarize them with the best music. Now, we are asked to permit the establishment of a mechanical instrument playing the worst music extant in the worst possible manner. How much musical training will our schools have to give to offset the effect of such a carrousel in a park that is visited by many children and young people—and especially in the vicinity of a playground where large numbers of children constantly gather?

More than that, in the vicinity of Echo Park are a large number of private residences, the occupants of which will be quite as susceptible to noise as are those of the hotels in the Westlake Park region. Besides, the children of this district have a large and well-equipped playground for their recreation—which costs them nothing. The park proper is visited by a great many older people who come here for rest and a quiet hour or day. These people are subjected to noisy conditions most of the time—they should find relief from discordance, at least, in this park—one of the most beautiful and easily accessible of all our city breathing spots.

There will certainly be objection and strong objection—to the location of this proposed concession in Echo Park.

ROSE L. ELLERBE.

Women in Cafes.

GLENDALE, Aug. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of Thursday I was amazed to find an article stating that Mayor Woodman would ask the Police Commission to adopt a resolution prohibiting women from entering a cafe after 9 p.m., unless accompanied by a male escort. Can this be the twentieth century? Shades of Susan B. and the rest of the suffragists! Does the Mayor really think the independent woman of today will stand for this sort of petty interference for one moment? The article further goes on to state that "as no decent woman cares to appear in a cafe, alone, after 9 p.m., of course there will be no objection to the measure."

Now, being a perfectly decent woman myself and knowing many other decent women situated as I am, none of us being frequenters of cafes, but merely being sometimes in a position to want something to eat after 9 p.m., and having no place to get it but in a cafe, I take exception to the suggested resolution. Having been the man of my family for many years, and having the brains and ability to hold a position in the business world on an equal footing with men, I claim it as my privilege to enter a cafe any time, day or night, that I may happen to find myself hungry.

A female arriving in Los Angeles on a late train, tired and hungry, usually wants something to eat before retiring. Is she to be denied admittance and considered indecent? Another woman, perhaps detained at her place of business until late and wanting a bite to eat—must she go supperless to bed, because she has no male escort handy to accompany her to a cafe? Suppose two women attend the theater together and afterward want a bit of supper. Are they then not respectable?

And again, if the city of Los Angeles is permitting cafes to exist of such a type that decent, respectable women alone ought not to appear there, they are certainly no place for these same women with an escort, and, for that matter, are they any place for decent and respectable men?

BESSIE ESTELLE GUILLEMONT.

Favors Licensing Law.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As there is being published some criticism of the new law governing the operations of real estate brokers in California, I wish to say that I consider this law most desirable in every way. I believe it will prove to be of great benefit to every property holder in the State, as well as to every honest broker.

The expense to the broker is so small ($15, including cost of bond,) that it will keep no deserving person out of the business, and certainly any honest person can find two property owners who will be willing to say that they consider him honest.

The real estate business in this State has been cursed by the activities of a horde of crooks who prey upon the buyer, the seller and the legitimate broker indiscriminately, and it is high time that some measure be adopted to protect the public from their operations.

I believe this law will accomplish just that object.

SCHOOL OPENING DELAYED A DAY.

State Admission Celebration Conflicts with Date Originally Set.

Instead of the Los Angeles city schools opening on Monday, September 10, as formerly announced, they will begin active work on the day following, it was stated at the Board of Education yesterday. The State Legislature has set aside September 10 for the observance of Admission Day, since that anniversary falls on Sunday, September 9.

A meeting between the Board of Education and the Board of Supervisors has been arranged for next Thursday in the latter's offices, when the budget for next year will be discussed.

Theaters—Amusements—Entertainments

SUPERBA THEATER

A Word to Los Angeles Theater-Goers:

To provide entertainment that everybody will enjoy is the most difficult thing that a theater manager has to contend with. "Come Through" jammed the Superba Theater from its very opening performance until the special midnite show on the closing date. Everybody raved about the picture, even the critics. We picked a winner and knew that the Los Angeles public would take to it like the proverbial "duck takes to water." We want to announce that we have again picked another winner, dramatically stronger than "Come Through," more thrilling, of vital importance to man, woman or child, and present for your approval on Sunday, August 12, for the first time anywhere

The Double Standard

This powerful play was written by Brand Whitlock, United States Minister to Belgium and ex-Mayor of Toledo, and was directed by Phillips Smalley, co-director with Lois Weber.

Roy Stewart is the star, the man that played the big Westerner in "Come Through."

The Double Standard is one of those plays that you may not have the opportunity of seeing again in years.

We are not over-advertising, nor exaggerating one bit when we say that it will cause more talk, among the laity, the police stories and private homes than any other picture that has ever played Los Angeles.

Make no appointment for Sunday, August 12. That's the opening date of "The Double Standard" at the TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Foreign exchange in the New York market retained its irregular characteristics of the last few days. A noteworthy feature of the Bank of England statement was the showing in the gain of gold, being approximately $5,000,000. Irregularity characterized the bond market.

REMOVE THE CAUSE.

A member of the Reichstag, in a speech before 6000 of his countrymen, demanded the substitution for the government of Chancellor Michaelis a government that will really represent the will of the people. The will of the majority of the German people will never be represented in the Reichstag until the majority of its members no longer represent the will of the Kaiser—and that will probably be only when there is no longer a Kaiser. It is for Germany to strike at the very root of tyranny by demanding the resignation, not of Michaelis, but of the man whom Michaelis represents.

CONSCIENCELESS OBJECTORS.

Labor-union officials in Chicago and elsewhere are protesting vigorously against government interference in strikes. The laborers as a rule welcome the change. It is the tyrannical bosses that fatten at the expense of their dupes who are doing the objecting. Selfishness always has objected and probably always will object to the interference of any power or influence outside of itself. "Selfishness is an island." What will the poor union bosses do if Uncle Sam robs them of their source of revenue? Nice little government, won't you lie down and be a good doggie and let the hungry wolves eat up your sheep?

EZEKIEL'S RECIPE FOR WAR BREAD

The ninth verse of the fourth chapter of Ezekiel reads as follows: "Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, . . . and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof."

In the thirteenth century David Kimchi, the commentator, wrote: "The prophet thus warns the disobedient children of Israel that, during the siege of Jerusalem, they will no longer be able to make their bread with pure wheat, but they will have to mix it with all kinds of grain and vegetables with which flour is not made, unless extreme need makes it necessary to do so."

War bread in Europe is now made according to the recipe of Ezekiel. But it is not baked with the same kind of fuel. For particulars see Ezekiel, 4, 12.

JUDGMENT DRAWS NEAR.

Four hundred Poles, at a meeting in Milwaukee, passed resolutions requesting President Wilson to authorize the raising of an American-Polish army to cross the sea and avenge Prussian atrocities in Poland. Listen, William—you who would add the title "Conqueror" to your name! Can you hear the clamor for vengeance and justice rising heavenward from every point of the globe? Do you hear the weeping of Belgium's outraged daughters, the prayers of Poland's oppressed, the moans of the children who inhabit your African possessions, Austria's heartrending plea and even the wailing of your own subjects whom you have professed to love, but whom you have led through fire and torture for three heavy years in order that Vanity might keep her blood-bought throne within your icy heart? Listen, listen, you who have so proudly proclaimed to an astounded world that God is an advocate of your earth-born pride and an accomplice of your cruelty: "Thy brothers' blood calleth to Me from the ground! He that useth the sword shall perish by the sword. Whatsoever any man soweth that shall he also reap. Be not deceived—God is not mocked. Vengeance is mine and I will repay."

MORAL COLLAPSE?

Germany, it is said, is hoping for and half expecting the "moral collapse" of the Allies. If by that is meant Germany thinks we Allies will break down because of despair or because of any qualms of conscience, then Germany better think again. Right never despairs, never gives up, although it is sometimes beaten and crushed by might. If a German victory were possible, even that would not mean that we Allies are wrong and that Prussian militarism is right. It would merely mean the delay of justice. Might is not always right, neither is right always powerful, else there would have been no outraged Belgium, no injured innocence anywhere, and no war. That truth and justice will finally prevail; that wrong will be punished and righteousness rewarded, no sane mind can doubt, since reason and experience prove the unerring balance of natural and spiritual laws. It is not in the breaking of laws that men suffer so much as in the necessary readjustment of conditions. "Because judgment is not executed speedily, therefore the hearts of the sons of man are fully set in them to do mischief." The extreme optimist fondly imagines that innocence and goodness are protected by their very nature and that they cannot be made to suffer by destructive agencies. While that is most probably a fallacy, let no man or nation think to escape the sure effects that follow wrong-doing. There will be no moral collapse of the Allies. Though the Allies themselves should wish to give up the fight, nature would not allow it.

OUR AMERICAN DICTATOR.

If President Wilson shall in any respect fail to conduct to a successful conclusion the war with Germany in which we are now embarked it will not be for lack of power to do anything and everything necessary to be done and some things maybe that are not necessary. Congress has made of Mr. Wilson a temporary despot, armed with full authority to adopt such measures as he may deem expedient without consulting Congress and to dispose of the lives and fortunes of citizens without appeal. The Roman dictatorship was limited to a period of six months, but no time limit restricts the operations of the Wilson dictatorship. Congress has given Mr. Wilson power:—

(1.) By the act of June 9, 1916, to order any individual or corporation to furnish any supplies or equipment at a price to be named by him. In case of default he may seize and operate the plant.

(2.) By the same act the President is authorized to construct and operate nitrate plants and to develop and install hydro-electric systems to furnish power necessary to the operation of such plants.

(3.) By the act of August 29, 1916, the President was empowered to take possession of any railroad system and use it for the movement of troops or for any other purpose connected with the emergency.

(4.) By the act of March 4, 1917, the President may command any person to produce for or deliver to the government ships or any war material. In case of refusal, he may seize and operate the shipyard or other plant.

(5.) By the act of June 15, 1917, the President may direct the seizure of any vessel in our waters, may remove the officers and men therefrom, put others in charge and exclude from it any persons not specially authorized by him. He may forbid anyone to enter upon or fly over any place in which anything is being prepared, constructed or stored for the use of the army or navy. He may forbid exportations except at times and under regulations and exceptions as he may prescribe.

(6.) The selective draft act authorizes him to raise the great army which is now being assembled.

(7.) The food survey bill authorizes the President to close grain exchanges which decline or neglect to purge their transactions of operations in futures.

(8.) Another bill vests in the President full control over the manufacture, shipment, sale and distribution of high explosives.

(9.) Another bill empowers the President to direct that preference in shipment be given to any commodities the movement of which he may deem it wise to expedite.

(10.) The food-control bills authorize Mr. Wilson—

"(a) To license the importation, exportation, manufacture, storage or distribution of food, feed and fuel; to prescribe regulations governing the business of licensees, violations of which are punishable criminally.

"(b) To purchase such necessaries at a price to be fixed by him, or by proceedings in court if the owner is dissatisfied, and to sell them; and to require any person having storage facilities to supply the same for the keeping or preservation of any necessaries so purchased, compensation being made in like manner.

"(c) To requisition and take over any factory, mine or other plant in which such necessaries may be manufactured, produced, prepared or mined, similar provision being made for compensation.

"(d) To make regulations governing operations on boards of trade and grain exchanges, observance of such being assured by penal provisions.

"(e) To guarantee a minimum price for agricultural products.

Much of this legislation has been assailed as violative of constitutional limitations. Those who favor these laws assert that their passage was a legitimate exercise of the war power of Congress. Before the constitutionality of these laws can be passed upon by the United States Supreme Court the war will probably be over and further enforcement of the laws will be abandoned. Jefferson declared that he had stretched the Constitution until it cracked to effect the Louisiana purchase, but the Mississippi Valley was added to our domain without the court having passed upon the constitutionality of its acquisition.

Willoughby says, Section 15:

The constitutional power given to the United States to declare and wage war, whether foreign or civil, carries with it the authority to use all means calculated to weaken the enemy and to bring the struggle to a successful conclusion. When dealing with the enemy, all acts that are calculated to advance this end are legal.

PARTNERSHIP OF SCOUNDRELS.

A dispatch to The Times from Globe, Ariz., announces a coalition between Apache Indians, I.W.W.'s and Mexicans. The coalition is said to be temporary in its character and is made for the more effectual burning of forests, plunder of houses and murder of obnoxious agents of loathsome wealth owners.

The combination—if it shall be made permanent—will present some picturesque features worthy of the attention of manufacturers of moving pictures. The Apache chief, "Man-Afraid-of-a-Bulldog," instead of leaning on his rifle with his face to the setting sun, bewailing the seizure of lands (which he never owned) by the cruel pale face, would be seen clad in a shirt borrowed from a clothes line, begging a hand-out from the cook of a ruthless capitalist.

The I.W.W. "Jimmy behind the stove" would discontinue dynamiting pernicious wealth owners, and would become a hunter—chasing the fierce jack rabbit to his lair—and feasting on grasshoppers roasted to a turn, and Senor Don Fulano y Stealallinsights would abandon everything Mexican except mescal and become a combination horse thief and dynamiter.

It is to be hoped that the forest fires which the combined villains have kindled will be extinguished before all the trees are burned. The cowboys from the Tonto Basin, when they capture the Apache-I.W.W.-Greaser horde, will need trees—still telegraph poles will answer the purpose.

Senator Jim Ham Lewis is still seeing things. It will be recalled that a few years ago the Illinois statesman made the discovery that China was about to declare war on the United States.

CALIFORNIA'S RIDICULOUS WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT.

President A. J. Pillsbury of the California Industrial Accident Commission has written to The Times, taking exception to its criticism of the Workmen's Compensation Act in so far as it relates to accident and death benefits which must be paid by employers to employees. He quotes the following extract from an editorial that appeared on July 24: "If an employee is injured in a fight arising from a personal quarrel with another employee, the employer must pay accident benefits." Mr. Pillsbury writes:

"In no instance in the history of compensation in California has any decision been rendered requiring accident benefits to be paid in such a case, but a number of instances have occurred where compensation was refused under circumstances similar to those suggested in the paragraph."

Mr. Pillsbury adds that he assumes the "misstatement" was based on misinformation "and that you will be glad to rectify the same in the public interest."

The Times is at a loss to understand the quibbling attitude of the chairman of the Industrial Accident Commission. The most charitable assumption is that he has been imposed upon by an unscrupulous subordinate. Mr. Pillsbury, in his assertions, limits himself to decisions rendered under the compensation act of 1915, while The Times editorial made explicit reference to the amended compensation act which was passed by the 1917 Legislature and goes into effect on January 1, 1918. One could hardly expect to find decisions under an act that has not yet gone into effect. Of what use to discuss that?

There is a marked difference between the compensation act of 1915 and the new 1917 act. Article 3 of the compensation act of 1915 provides that benefits must be paid "where the injury is proximately caused by the employment either with or without negligence, and is not so caused by the intoxication or the wilful misconduct of the employee." Compare this with the new section by which it is replaced:

Where the injury is caused by the serious or wilful misconduct of the injured employee, the compensation otherwise recoverable shall be reduced one-half; provided, however, that such misconduct of the employee shall not be a defense to the claim of the dependents of said employee if the injury results in death or to the claim of the employee if the injury results in a permanent partial disability equaling or in excess of 70 per cent. of the total.

That section was dictated by the labor-union lobby maintained at Sacramento during the session of the 1917 Legislature. It was opposed by employers of labor generally; but the union influence with the administration was strong enough to force its adoption. During the discussion in committee it was termed as unfair and unjustly discriminatory an act as was ever introduced in a legislative assemblage. It seems unbelievable that any legislative body should hold an employer responsible for an injury which an employee brings upon himself as the result of his own "serious or wilful misconduct." It illustrates the thorough labor-union domination of the old Johnson machine. Mr. Pillsbury seems to be unaware that such a section has been written into the Workmen's Compensation Act.

While the act was under discussion in committee its opponents asserted that, under the section just quoted, if an employee of a shop or factory should commit suicide the employer must pay his family full death benefit. This was not denied by the proponents of the measure. It was generally admitted that, under the new act, a workman who injured himself while trying to wreck the factory in which he was employed would be entitled to half benefits, and that if the injury resulted in death his dependents could collect full benefits. Mr. Pillsbury is perhaps unacquainted with the existence of such a provision in the new law. In fact, his communication gives the impression that he is not aware that the compensation act has been amended. His chief associate, Meyer Lissner, also a $5000-a-year man, should be able to advise him on this subject, for it was Lissner who represented the Industrial Accident Commission in lobbying the "wilful misconduct" section through the Legislature.

Mr. Pillsbury is equally in error when he asserts that no accident benefits have been paid in an instance where the injuries resulted from a fight between employees. The commission did make such an award, the case was carried to the State Supreme Court and the judgment of the commission was affirmed. Justice Henshaw wrote a strong dissenting opinion that was widely quoted in California and other States. The case in question is that of the Western Indemnity Company against the Industrial Accident Commission reported in the August number of California Decisions of 1918. If such an award was legal under the old law, what protection is left to the employer under the act that goes into effect the first of next January?

MACERATED CUCUMBERS.

Some college graduates who, asa rule, do not know what they are talking about go into rhapsodies over the cookery of culinary artists of former times. They talk of dishes on which Heliogabalus supped and of dishes with which Vatel tickled the palate of Louis XIV; but the dishes they eulogize would be regarded by cooks in a Los Angeles cafeteria as unassimilable compilations of indigestible matter, not to be compared with a modern breakfast or dinner menu.

The recipes of some of the ancient dishes read as if they were prepared by cooks afflicted with the jim jams. Nero was said to be fond of macerated cucumbers. His chef extracted the cores of ripe cucumbers, pounded them to a paste, mixed them with the yolks of eggs and added salt, pepper, olive oil, Falernian wine, decayed cheese and chopped wasps' nests. He stuffed the cucumber shells with this compound, baked them for half an hour and served hot. No wonder that Nero set fire to Rome.

If Julius Caesar had known the luxury of hot corn bread; if Brutus could have had buckwheat cakes with maple syrup; if Lucullus could have substituted terrapin for nightingales' tongues, the whole course of Roman history might have been changed. The ancient philosophers did not commend ancient cookery. "Simple diet," said Pliny, "is best, for many dishes bring many diseases; and rich sauces are worse than even heaping several meats upon each other."

Those extravagant American sailors who paid $120 in a Paris hotel for a dinner for six and afterwards scattered $80 more in tips were possibly the sons of wealthy men and could afford it. In addition they were flush on cash and flush.

MARCHING HOME.

When they come back from blood-stained fields, the country's hero fighters, displaying on their belts and shields the scalps of Prussian blighters; when they come back across the foam from active German hunting, how proudly they'll be welcomed home! We'll deck the land with bunting! The bands will play to beat the band, brave airs in handsome doses, and pretty girls on every hand will pelt the boys with roses. And there'll be music in the kirk, loud organ peals and singing, and every man will quit his work and keep the welkin ringing. I'd hate to be the slacker lad who skulked and dodged the fighting when from Paree or Petrograd the boys come home a-kiting! I'd hate to be that young man, then, disgraced beyond redemption, who claimed a spavin or a wen as reason for exemption. Oh, better far to fill a grave in some red field uncharted than slink around when banners wave to greet the iron-hearted. When we, to see the heroes back, before the courthouse rally, the bloodless fellows who were slack will hide in some dark alley.

TREASON.

BY EDWARD A. BELCHER,
Former Superior Judge of San Francisco.

In view of the activities of the I.W.W. and of certain hyphenates in the past few weeks, especially throughout the Pacific and the Middle Western States, it would seem that everyone ought to know what constitutes treason against the United States. I use the word "hyphenates" in its criticisable sense, i.e., as meaning those of foreign birth residing within the United States who, in words or deeds, favor the enemies of the United States as against the United States, and do not comprehend therein those foreign-born who have proved themselves to be Americans. The hyphen is not the crux, but the man's heart, whether that is at the American end of the hyphen—whether the man is wholly committed to the United States and unreservedly against her enemies. For no man can serve two masters. From of old the command has ever been the same: "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve!" As touching the I.W.W., they make a pretense that their activities are purely those of labor; so McNamara and his co-bombers pretended in the Los Angeles criminal trials; but murder was shown to have been murder and punishment was awarded accordingly. So, treason is treason; and it may be Protean—may assume a hundred different forms. It is to be remembered, also, that the activities of the I.W.W. were deferred until after the United States was at war with Germany.

The law makes no distinctions in treason. There is no half-treason. Any treason is all treason. And the alien may take no comfort in that not having become a citizen of the United States he is not amenable to the law of treason. He is amenable. The highest duty of government is self-protection; and as treason strikes against the life of government, the alien is subject to the law of treason equally with the native-born or naturalized citizen because he lives here for the time being. The Supreme Court of the United States made that clear long years ago: Carlisle vs. U. S., 16 Wall. 147: "The alien, whilst domiciled in this country, owes a local and temporary allegiance, which continues during the period of his residence." In its decision the court followed and adopted the broad principle laid down by Daniel Webster when Secretary of State: "Independently of a residence with intention to continue such residence; independently of any domiciliation; independently of the taking of any oath of allegiance, it is well known that, by the public law, an alien or a stranger-born, for so long a time as he continues within the dominions of a foreign government, owes obedience to the laws of that government, and may be PUNISHED for treason or other crimes as a native-born subject might be. (6 Web. Wks. 526.)

By the statutes of the United States treason is defined as follows:

"(1.) Whoever, owing allegiance to the United States, levies war against them, or adheres to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort within the United States or elsewhere, is guilty of treason.

"(2.) Whoever is convicted of treason shall suffer death, or, at the discretion of the court, shall be imprisoned not less than five years and fined not less than ten thousand dollars, to be levied on and collected out of all his property, real and personal, of which he was the owner at the time of committing such treason, no sale or conveyance to the contrary notwithstanding, and every person so convicted of treason shall moreover be incapable of holding any office under the United States."

Nor is one guiltless if he knows of treason and fails to disclose it. Like a receiver of stolen goods, he is particeps criminis unless he or she at once makes the fact known to the government; for to conceal treason is to commit treason. This sort of treason is called "misprision of treason," and it includes all, whether alien or native or naturalized. The following is the section of the statute relating to it: "(2.) Whoever, owing allegiance to the United States" (see Webster's alien principle) "and having knowledge of the commission of any treason against them, conceals, and does not, as soon as may be, disclose and make known the same to the President or to some judge of the United States, or to the Governor or to some judge or justice of a particular State, is guilty of misprision of treason and shall be imprisoned not more than seven years and fined not more than one thousand dollars."

In view of the foregoing the expediency of following the United States Attorney-General's advice—"keep your mouth shut; obey the law"—would seem manifest.

Sammies Want Live News.

[New York Evening World:] That's a good point Gen. Pershing makes about the reading matter his country ought to send to its soldiers in France:

"The literature sent to France must be current—that is, new magazines and leading newspapers dispatched as soon as possible after publication."

Just remember the young Americans massing behind the firing line are not bedridden invalids or inmates of old men's homes. On the contrary they are very much alive and kicking, with an insistent appetite for the latest, liveliest news of the day. They don't want Harper's Weekly for the year of the Centennial or other dusty back numbers. Nor are tattered volumes of the Sea Side Library and such garret rubbish the thing to ship to husky, wide-awake Americans at the front.

In these days most of us are quick readers. The daily newspaper, the current weekly or monthly has soon given us what we bought it for. Make it a rule to put a stamp on it while it is fresh and start it off to the boys across the water.

SEA FISH WILL BE PUT INLAND.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Aug. 9.—Capt. Charles E. Davis, tall, bronzed, aggressive and enthusiastic ruler of Salton Sea Island, the only submarine "empire" in the world, was in town today. Incidentally, he is a great advocate of the mullet. While here he mentioned how he had propagated the mullet and excluded the destroying carp from his fishing grounds 264 feet below the level of the sea. In a few weeks, according to Capt. Davis, Fish Commissioner Scofield will be here and they will then take steps to further propagate the Salton Sea with fish of the sea.

Improvement.

BIG AUDITORIUM WILL BE ERECTED.

POPULAR SUMMER RESORT TO ADD CONVENIENCE.

Hermosa Beach Chamber of Commerce Expects it will be Built Before Another Season. Bank and Business Houses Report Large Increase in Business.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HERMOSA BEACH, Aug. 9.—Owing to the immense crowds coming to Hermosa Beach this season the Chamber of Commerce has taken steps to revive the interest heretofore manifested in having a grand auditorium erected on the concrete pier, that the many visitors to this popular summer resort will be properly entertained. In the past whatever the chamber has undertaken to do in the manner of building up the interests of the people of Hermosa has met with success. An auditorium is one of the much-needed improvements for this beach and it is safe to predict that another season will see a creditable structure completed.

As proof of the big season noticed in business affairs at this beach the First Bank of Hermosa Beach has had a 50 per cent. increase in its business over last year. Other business firms have done likewise.

BOND ELECTION.

The municipal election for the Redondo-Hermosa harbor has been announced for September 18 and the enthusiasm manifested over this great improvement is taken as evidence that Hermosa will follow in the footsteps of Redondo and carry the $100,000 bonds.

On request of the Chamber of Commerce, the City Council has ordered another supply of seats for the Plaza, to accommodate the crowds that gather for the Saturday and Sunday evening concerts. The creation of the Plaza on Pier avenue this season is another feature that has met with hearty indorsement of the citizens and the probability is that this improvement will be increased to cover double the space next season.

GOVERNOR A VISITOR.

Gov. Stephens has been spending a week at this beach enjoying the fishing. He returned to Sacramento yesterday, after having satisfied himself that Hermosa Beach is the fisherman's paradise.

Last year Barker Bros. gave a grand picnic to their employees and their families. So successful was the gathering that they will return September 10 for another day's outing for their 1500 people. This speaks well for Hermosa as an appropriate place for picnics.

Considerable building is being done and plans made for a number of homes to be built the coming year. Every available house has been rented this season and a number of people from the interior cities have been unable to secure accommodations here for the reason that they did not secure places in the early part of the season.

A four-acre plot of ground at the head of Pier avenue is being laid out by a landscape gardener and F. P. Sargent will build a seven-room bungalow thereon. Mr. and Mrs. Sargent were recently married and decided that Hermosa Beach was the most suitable location for their home.

VETERANS ARE MAKING MERRY.

Enjoyable Programmes Given at Huntington Beach.

Spanish War Veterans Plan for a Big Day.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 9.—Battles of long ago are being fought over again on the camp grounds in this city by the grand old veterans who saved the Union more than a half century ago.

The shells are falling thick and fast and the boys are marching and making counter-attacks in the shade of the stately eucalyptus trees that adorn the grounds that are known this year as Camp Frank Hobart.

The registrations were slightly less on the opening day than last year. However, the number of tents occupied was larger than the same time last year, showing that a larger number of friends are accompanying the G.A.R. men than usual.

The entertainment the first night was furnished by the Huntington Post and Woman's Relief Corps, and consisted of numbers by the Huntington Beach Municipal Band; flag drill by twenty-four members of the corps; Japanese dance by Miss Mabel Young; fancy dances by Miss Eva Wright; vocal solo, Albert Golander, and a vaudeville act.

FLAG RAISING.

The annual flag raising took place at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and Old Glory was hoisted in place by Senior Vice-Commander Tom Hull of Los Angeles. The address was delivered by E. C. Seymore of Highland.

As usual one of the great attractions of the camp is the Los Angeles Veterans' Drum Corps, composed of Robert Bain, leader, of Los Angeles, 76 years old; S. Q. Howard, Los Angeles, 77; Isaac Culberson, Los Angeles, 76; W. H. Nash, Los Angeles, 75; A. J. Stranbury, Los Angeles, 77; S. Vennum, Soldiers' Home, 77; S. H. Hazeldine, Sawtelle, 73; M. L. Spotswood, Sawtelle, 73; W. E. Powelson, Los Angeles, 72; A. M. Thornburg, Los Angeles, 78. The drum used by Leader Bain was captured by his great grandfather, John Bain, in the Revolutionary War, at Beemis Heights, N. Y.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Saturday will be Spanish War Veterans' day and a big time is promised. Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, of Los Angeles, has arranged for an all-day picnic and a special afternoon programme for children. The evening programme will be given by the Wallis Dramatic School of Art, and there will be other features to please everybody. Commander D. E. Foster and Adjt. Arthur L. Merry are in charge of the affair and special trains will be run by the Pacific Electric from Los Angeles.

DEATH TAKES PIONEER OF COVINA VALLEY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COVINA, Aug. 9.—Ranchers and business men throughout the valley are today mourning the death of B. L. Reynolds, pioneer orange grower and one of the early stalwarts in progress for the Covina Valley.

Mr. Reynolds succumbed following an operation for appendicitis, his death occurring five days after being taken to the Sisters' Hospital in Los Angeles. A sad feature of the death is that his wife is also seriously ill in the same hospital, and was not apprised of her husband's critical condition until yesterday.

Mr. Reynolds was still in the prime of life, and was actively engaged in orchard improvement here. In the early eighties he bought and subdivided twenty acres where the city now stands, and later improved forty acres, now known as Valencia Park. He subdivided 160 acres in La Verne, on the mesa facing the mouth of the San Dimas Canyon. He was living on this property at the time that he was stricken.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. S. J. McConnell officiating.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR FINE SCHOOL.

LOS ANGELES FIRM GIVEN GLENDORA WORK.

Lowest of Seventeen Bids for Six-classroom Structure is for an Amount Just Under Thirty Thousand Dollars—Extra Lots Purchased for the Site.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDORA, Aug. 9.—The grammar school board has awarded the contract to the Henry Clarke Company of Los Angeles for the erection of a six-classroom fireproof grammar schoolhouse with an auditorium with seating capacity for 400 people. The contract price is $29,986, the lowest of the seventeen bids offered. By the terms of the contract the work of construction should begin at once and the building be ready for occupancy in 120 days from the date of signing. Not a day was lost as a force of men in the employ of the company is now breaking ground for foundation.

The plumbing contract was let to S. Hill and Son of Santa Ana at $2298 and the installation of the heating system goes to Cooney and Winterbottom of Los Angeles at $1400.

The old frame schoolhouse to be replaced is to be wrecked and the lumber available for use is to be used in the construction of the new building. It is estimated that by doing so, a saving of $4000 will easily be effected. The walls are to be constructed with hollow tile with tile roof.

The class rooms and the auditorium are all to be on the ground floor and constructed on the unit plan, so the two additional rooms required to make it a standard eight-class room grammar schoolhouse may be built on when required.

Four 40x150 foot lots have just been purchased and added to the original site, thus enlarging it to almost two-thirds of a five-acre block.

Paris Safe from Cold.

[London Times:] The Paris Municipal Council seems to be making progress with its plans to prevent a repetition of last winter's coal muddle.

M. Delanney, prefect of the Seine, has announced the success of his negotiations through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in obtaining 800,000 tons of British coal. This stock will enable the municipality to continue free distribution to the poor and also to sell a certain quantity at a reduced price. It will also insure supplies to schools and hospitals. With regard to domestic and industrial needs it is apparently decided to issue coal cards from September 1, the former being dealt with by the prefect's services, while the Paris Chamber of Commerce will distribute coal to the manufacturers.

M. Delanney further announced that a contract had been made between the city and the state for the delivery of 250,000 cubic feet of wood from the forest of Dreux. He expressed confidence that Paris this winter would be protected against cold.

Four Gypsies Had $20,000.

[Boston Globe:] At the Federal Building recently, $20,166 in bills was produced by four gypsies, who dug the money out of their clothes and exchanged it for gold. The money was so creased and wrinkled that it took two hours to straighten it out and count it. When the gypsies were given the gold they carried it to the south station and shipped the entire amount to their grandfather in South Dakota.

An Epidemic Can Start In Your Home

A garbage can (covered or uncovered) will breed millions of disease germs in one day right in your kitchen.

So will an unwashed milk bottle, a clogged sink, a little old water in your refrigerator, or faulty plumbing in your toilet or kitchen sink.

These germs can infect your family and your neighborhood, and thus cause epidemic to spread over city, state, and country. All big epidemics have small beginnings, and most of them could be prevented by proper disinfection of homes.

You can disinfect your home thoroughly, easily, and cheaply with Lysol because it surely kills germs and keeps flies away. Use Lysol often in garbage cans, sinks, toilets, cesspools, and drains.

Use Lysol in scrubbing water and for cleaning milk bottles, for soap and water will not kill all germs. Take these simple precautions and you will make a better fight against disease than it can make against you and yours.

Lysol Disinfectant

A 25 cent bottle makes two gallons of disinfectant. A 50 cent bottle makes five gallons. Get a bottle today. Complete directions with every bottle. Remember there is but one true Lysol, and that is the product made, bottled, signed and sealed by Lehn & Fink. Buy only in original yellow package and see that our name is on the label.

YOUTH AND AGE SWAP CHARGES.

Wealthy Lumberman Faces Young Wife in Court.

Wrecked Romance of December and April Narrated.

Blame for Odd Domestic Plot Made a Shuttlecock.

Extremes met when Albert M. Gloyd married Maiette Smith Hearne Gloyd in Denver, December 16, 1914. In age he was approaching the sere and yellow, while she was in the first bloom of young womanhood. Her first husband had treated her cruelly and she had divorced him. Mr. Gloyd declared she told him she was a widow. At any rate, it seems that it was love at first sight when the former prominent Kansas City lumberman met Mrs. Hearne. He was a widower and in ill-health. She was dainty and rosy with health.

He met her mother, Mrs. Emma Smith, the widow of a wealthy San Antonio business man, whose investments, it is said, piled up a bigger fortune for the widow when oil was discovered on his holdings. Mr. Gloyd asked for the hand of the beautiful young daughter. There was no objection despite his age, and the marriage took place.

The curtain should have rung down on a pretty domestic picture, the young wife winning her husband back to health. But a month after the honeymoon they had their first difference. She wanted money to open a private bank account. He saw no reason why she should have one, as his fortune was hers. She told him her first husband had opened an account for her.

"He borrowed $300 to open it," she said.

"That was poor business," he retorted.

STARTLING ALLEGATION.

She insisted, and her insistence displeased him. One little thing after another disturbed the marital happiness until the final great cause occurred. This is a startling allegation, based on a conversation Mr. Gloyd says he heard between wife and their housekeeper. This was the alleged offer of $5000 to the housekeeper to get Mr. Gloyd in a compromising position.

Mr. Gloyd brought suit for divorce, and yesterday husband and wife sat in Judge Wood's courtroom, in a bitter contest which promises to consume several days. The examination of Mr. Gloyd by his attorneys, John C. Stick and Arthur Keotch, revealed the most intimate details of his married life. It also revealed the fighting point in the case—his declaration that she knew he was suffering from tuberculosis and was ill in bed many days at a time, and her declaration that he told her he had a slight attack and was growing stronger.

He testified that once he called her attention to a milk bill of $17 for one month's supply and asked her to look it up. He added it was no criticism of her management. Once again it was her request for a locket he had given his first wife. He demurred on that account. She retorted that he was not inclined to please her. Finally it came to the point where she told him she hated and loathed him, he says.

Only once his wife held his hand, he said; that was when he had an attack of appendicitis. He said he showed her his will, in which he gave her 52 per cent. of his property, which was valued at $600,000. He testified that she wanted him to sign a contract agreeing that her mother should have all the property he had given her. He refused, he said. This property included a lavaliere worth $1800, a sealskin coat and a diamond worth $400.

DEFENSE PLANS.

Oscar Lawler and E. D. Lyman, representing Mrs. Gloyd, will try to show that Mr. Gloyd, and not Mrs. Gloyd, planned the alleged conspiracy.

BEAN MEN PLAN MARKETING BODY.

BEAN JOBBERS GROWERS OF THE LIMA VARIETY.

Possibility of Association Is Discussed at a Conference with Col. Harris-Weinstock—Committee will Draft Procedure—Half Hundred from Southland Attend.

At a conference held with Col. Harris-Weinstock, State director of markets, at the Alexandria Hotel yesterday, bean growers of California discussed the feasibility of forming a co-operative marketing association.

Ralph C. Churchill, manager of the Lima Bean Growers' Association, expressed the opinion that rules of his organization could be enlarged so as to take in all bean growers.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the organization of the general bean growers' association. It follows: W. E. Blackstead, R. L. Owen, Alexander Jeffrey, William Jeffrey, Ross Whitley, A. H. Cravens, H. A. Carlson and N. W. Robertson.

The meeting was attended by about fifty growers of Southern California.

COUNTY AT LAND SHOW.

Los Angeles Asked to Take Space at San Francisco Fair.

A delegation of San Francisco business men, representing the California Land Show, appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday and urged the county to take floor space for the exhibition which opens in that city October 13, closing October 28. The delegates were Emile B. Kahn, chairman of the Land Show Committee of the Real Estate Board; F. M. Pickering and W. K. Dunne.

The Supervisors referred the matter to the Chamber of Commerce, which has been appropriated from the county budget $5000 for exploitation purposes. Every county in the State is expected to take floor space and exploit its resources.

LEADERS ARE HEARD.

North American Secretary and the World Conference President of the Seventh-day Adventist Church Speak to Camp Meeting Audiences.

Pastor George B. Thompson of Washington, D. C., secretary of the North American Division Conference, and Pastor Arthur G. Daniells, also of Washington, president of the General or World Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, were the principal speakers yesterday at the Southern California conference's annual camp meeting, in progress at West Washington street and Orchard avenue.

Pastor Thompson, speaking last night, declared Saturday is the true Sabbath and that the evolution theory of creation is false. He held that if God could not create a world in six literal days of twenty-four hours each, he could not create it at all.

During the morning Pastor Daniells said gospel light in America and lack of it in China and Korea account for the enormous material advantages this land enjoys over the dim Orient.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight Pastor E. E. Andross of Glendale will speak on "The Flag of the Kingdom." A medical symposium will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon and a young people's symposium at 11 o'clock this morning.

GRAND JURY RESTS.

After reporting late yesterday afternoon to Superior Judge Willis and returning a secret indictment, setting bail at $5000, the county grand jury adjourned until 10 o'clock next Thursday morning. At that time, the investigation into the alleged misuse of a trust fund of $500 by Fire Chief Eley will be resumed.

It was stated at the District Attorney's office that the secret indictment has no connection with any of the prominent matters supposed to have been investigated during the past few days.

REALTY BOARDS' CHIEF RETURNS.

National President Garland Back from Convention.

Tells of Intense Patriotism Displayed at Milwaukee.

Will Appoint All Committees Some Time in September.

Bringing back with him a message of greeting and friendship to his fellow-members of the Los Angeles Realty Board, William May Garland, who was elected president of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges at the great convention of the realty men of the country held in Milwaukee last month, returned to this city Wednesday night. Mr. Garland made the last leg of his return journey from the Wisconsin city by automobile from San Francisco. Herbert L. Cornish, president of the local realty board, and who, with Mr. Garland, was a delegate at the convention, arrived in Los Angeles a week ago and was on hand with other members of the board to congratulate the new head of the real estate fraternity of the nation upon his return.

"The Milwaukee convention," Mr. Garland said, "was characterized by deliberations on subjects pertaining to our business and by patriotism. I have never seen a more impressive spectacle than was presented when the 1100 visiting realty men, the hundreds of Milwaukee brokers and a throng of visitors that packed the huge Milwaukee auditorium rose to cheer the patriotic oration delivered by Nathan W. McChesney, the general counsel of the association, on the last day of the convention. The country does not boast any more patriotic body of men than those comprising the realty profession and the fervor of that love of country was well illustrated at Milwaukee."

Mr. Garland announced that he would not attempt to appoint all of the numerous committees which are to handle the association's affairs during the coming year until September.

Amendments are Proposed to Billboard Ordinance.

Applicants Bound to Furnish All Data Requested.

City Engineer will Enforce the New Regulations.

A proposed amendment to the billboard ordinance, designed to make the latter more effective, will go this morning to the City Council from the Board of Public Works.

The amendment includes two sections, prepared by Building Superintendent Backus after conference with the board. The changes provide that it shall be incumbent upon the person or concern proposing to establish a billboard within the allotted district to make application for a permit, setting forth the location of the land on which it is desired and such other data as the board may require, and that concerns controlling billboards must, upon the ordinance becoming effective, file with the Board of Public Works a complete statement as to the number so controlled, their square feet of area surface and an accurate description of the location of each billboard.

The board has placed the enforcement of this ordinance with the city engineer's department.

In Mr. Backus's report to the Board of Public Works he points out that section 15 of the ordinance makes it unlawful to post or display any statement, words or signs of an obscene, indecent or immoral nature; any picture, illustration or delineation of the human figure in such detail as to offend public morality or decency, together with many other things of like character.

The board, in its communication to the Council, which will be presented this morning, says:

"We feel it our duty to advise your honorable body that the Board of Public Works is an administrative department of the city and can under no circumstances become a board of censors. The Board of Public Works, therefore, cannot enforce the provisions of section 15 of the said ordinance, but this section must be enforced by the police and other departments of the city charged with the enforcement of ordinances of such import. The Board of Public Works has, however, instructed the city engineer to enforce all other provisions of the said ordinance.

"The Board of Public Works makes the foregoing recommendations on the assumption that the said billboard ordinance is to be enforced, and we cannot take the responsibility of its failure at the expiration of the eleven-month period prescribed therein for the removal of billboards now installed within certain districts, as outlined in said ordinance, which failure might result if the aforesaid amendments were not adopted at this time."

HER LATEST HUSBAND GIVEN DECREE OF DIVORCE.

Couple Legally Separated on Ground that Wife had Become Too Friendly with Her Dance Partner—Woman's Life Filled with Unusual Events.

The checkered career of Reatha Watson, whose beauty was fatal to her, was reviewed in Judge Shenk's court yesterday when Philip Ainsworth was granted a divorce from her on the ground of too intimate a friendship with Robert Carville, her dancing partner.

The case was partially tried last April and continued for further evidence. This came yesterday in the testimony of Lena Curran, an aunt of Mr. Carville's. She testified that she rented a place and kept house for her nephew. Last December Reatha "wished" herself on the aunt and remained several nights. She "wished" herself into Mr. Carville's apartment, so the evidence showed.

Miss Watson broke into the limelight several years ago when she accused relatives of kidnaping her. The charge did not prove well-founded. Then began a series of sensational events in which Miss Watson gained the sobriquet of "The too beautiful girl." She married Jack Lyttle, who died. Then Lawrence Converse, who was an officer in the army of the Mexican revolutionists, married her. Unfortunately, or fortunately, he had a wife and three children, so that the marriage was not binding. He also died. The third marriage was to Philip Ainsworth. He enlisted in the army and is now a sergeant.

Mrs. Ainsworth then took up fancy dancing, her partner being Robert Carville. Now she is free again. Neither party to the divorce action was in court yesterday. Mr. Ainsworth was represented by Attorney Gerald Doyle.

WAR'S EFFECTS INTEREST EAST.

We'll Win, but What's to Come After, is Question.

Eyes on Future, not Present, Says Provision Man.

Food Bill's Operations may Mean Marked Changes.

"Business in the East, on the whole, is extremely active, but in some cases has shown more or less restriction," said Louis N. Stott, former manager of the Los Angeles branch of Logan & Bryan, now a member of the firm, on his return here yesterday from a trip East. "This is especially true in steel for building. In New York City all new building has practically stopped and as a result architects and people of this class are suffering severely. It is said, however, that the steel companies are so filled with orders in other lines that this loss in building material is hardly noticed and is more than offset by the requirements for steel ships.

"The delay in the passing of the food bill has caused a very unsatisfactory condition in the handling of cash grain. No one knows yet just what the mode of procedure will be, but the best posted people in this line of business seem to feel that it must work out so that the old commission houses will act in some capacity as agents for the government.

"The farmer has always been of the habit of attaching a draft to the bill of lading for a car of wheat, the draft representing about 90 per cent. of the cash value of the wheat at the time of shipment. The government, in none of its departments, will pay a draft of this nature. It will therefore be necessary for some one, as in the past, to finance the farmer and furnish the funds, pending the delivery of the grain to the purchaser whom the government may designate.

"The handling of oil, coal and other necessities will probably work out along something of the same line, and the result will be that, while there is at present more or less uncertainty regarding many of these matters in the minds of business men, the final arrangement will in no way adversely affect the conducting of legitimate business.

"Everywhere in the East one is met by an impression of earnestness regarding the war, and, strange as it may seem, the questions of what the after effects are going to be on this country seem to be more the source of discussion than the defeating of Germany. The latter result is everywhere taken as a matter of course, even if it takes years to do it. But the financial, political and sociological effect on the future of the United States is going to be so vast in every way that the biggest minds in the country are already trying to grasp some of the possibilities. They all agree that the result will be a finer type of citizen, a keener interest in political affairs than was ever known before, and a great upbuilding of the national spirit which only comes when men have suffered for a high ideal."

PLANS APPROVED FOR GOOD ROADS.

LARGE SUM TO BE SPENT IN PALO VERDE VALLEY.

Highways will Radiate from Blythe Like Spokes of a Wheel and More than One Hundred Thousand Dollars will be Spent. District to Pay Cost.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 9.—Plans and specifications for the building of thirty-four miles of highway in the Palo Verde Valley, radiating from Blythe like the spokes of a wheel, were ordered by the Board of Supervisors today. The residents of the valley believe that the entire cost of the improvement, variously estimated at $100,000 to $200,000, will be saved in one year's hauling.

To pay the cost of the work 3,000 acres of land will be assessed. A petition for the formation of the district brought the matter to the attention of the Supervisors, who appointed R. W. Waterman engineer of the district. What is known as water-bound macadam surfacing will be the type of construction employed.

In discussing the project Mr. Waterman stated that the improvement contemplated a good crossing over the Colorado River and a direct route to Ehrenburg, placing Blythe and the Palo Verde Valley on the line of the best accepted overland route from Los Angeles to Phoenix.

WALL STREET CALMER OVER PRICE CONTROL.

Recovery Becomes General in the Final Hour, Resulting Mainly from Customary Covering Movement—Foreign Exchange Continues Irregular and Same Applies to Tone of the Bond Market.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Wall street took a calmer view today of the price-control situation but professionals pressed their advantage tentatively, though rallies of 1 to 3 points ruled at the close.

There were signs of substantial support in war issues and steels. Depressions in motors was emphasized by receivership proceedings against a concern making automobile parts. Shipping and rails, especially the former, were conspicuous for their comparative strength. Other strong and active specialties included Industrial Alcohol, United States Rubber, Sugar and a few utilities.

The recovery, which became more general in the final hour resulted mainly from the customary covering movement.

Sales amounted to 550,000 shares.

Foreign exchange retained its irregular characteristics. The noteworthy feature of the Bank of England statement was the gain in gold of approximately $5,000,000.

An irregular tone prevailed in the narrow bond market. Liberty 3½s were quoted at 99.84 to 99.86. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,300,000.

United States coupon and registered 4s rose ½ on call.

PEACE IS FAVORED BY GERMAN MINERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 9.—Eight thousand miners attended a recent mass meeting at Essen, Germany, for the discussion of coal production, food and wages. The meeting developed into an impressive demonstration in favor of peace by agreement and democratic reforms. The miners declared in favor of the Reichstag majority peace resolution and demanded that the Reichstag pursue their decision in the interests of humanity. The Socialist organ Vorwaerts says the fact that the demonstration occurred in Essen, the center of Pan-German propaganda, increases its importance.

MEXICANS RESCUED BY AMERICAN SHIP.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 9.—Arrivals from the Isthmus of Tehuantepec say that an American steamer has brought to Vera Cruz ten more survivors of the abandoned colony on Clipperton Island, 650 miles off the Mexican coast. An American gunboat landed at Salina Cruz last Tuesday with eleven Mexican women and children, survivors of more than 100 colonists who settled on the island in February, 1914. The remainder of the colonists died from scurvy or were drowned.

It is believed here that those brought to Vera Cruz by the American steamer are refugees from other islands in the same region.

Representative.

HOOVER'S AIDE IS BUSY HERE.

Confers with Committee of Council of Defense.

Food Control to be Handled by State Agencies.

Larger National Problems to Interest Washington.

As national food administrator, Herbert C. Hoover will work as far as possible through existing State agencies, according to his representative in California, Ralph P. Merritt, who was in Los Angeles yesterday conferring with committees of the State Council of Defense.

Mr. Merritt is in charge of the food conservation programme in this State, as the personal representative of Mr. Hoover. As soon as the new law goes into effect, making Mr. Hoover the food administrator of the United States, which will be thirty days after the signature of the bill by the President, Mr. Merritt's position will be official.

The plan is, according to Mr. Merritt, to decentralize authority and responsibility among the States, a representative of the national food administration being assigned to each State and working with and through the State agencies, such as the councils of defense and the regular officials.

Under the new law the national food administration is to have charge of the distribution, marketing and conservation of food products, as far as national policies are concerned. The matter of production itself is to be in the hands of the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Merritt met yesterday with local members of the California Women's Committee of the Councils of National and State Defense, those present including Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, Mrs. Seward A. Simms and Mrs. F. M. Harmon. He had high praise for the work done by this organization, which, among its other activities, has secured 30,000 signers for the food-saving pledge and has active representatives in fifty-six of California's fifty-eight counties.

REDONDO BEACH TO ACCLAIM PROGRESS.

TWO-DAY CELEBRATION IS TO BEGIN TOMORROW.

Wedding of Pleasure and Business, Represented by Triangular Pier and the Deep-water Harbor Project, will be Cause of an Elaborate Public Rejoicing.

The wedding of pleasure and business in the history of Redondo Beach will be celebrated for two days, tomorrow and Sunday.

Redondo Beach has just completed a great concrete pier, in triangular form, as a focus for the amusement features of the little city, and has just let contracts for the construction of an inner basin and harbor, by which the industrial future of the city and its adjoining neighbor will, it is confidently believed, be permanently assured.

The Los Angeles Advertising Club will hold its annual banquet Saturday evening at the Casino Cafe, at which an honored guest will be Mary Pickford, the picture star. Seen upon thousands of miles of film in Southern California, this will be only her second appearance in real life before Southern California people—at the Ad Club banquet, and again in the public celebration of the opening of the pier.

Miss Julia Heinrich, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who is summering in Southern California, is also on the programme, both with the Ad Club and in the public commemoration of the double event. Miss Heinrich will sing three numbers in the open air, one of them a special California song. The evening will close with an open-air dance on the end of the pier.

For Sunday a great balloon shower has been prepared, for the delight of the children; there will be diving beauties, band concerts, vaudeville, and in the evening Ray Henderson will give his fire dive.

for service. He said that if the medical students are not exempted there will be no reserve force at home to fill vacancies in the ranks. This question of exemptions for medical students will be considered at length in the Sacramento meeting next week.

IN NO. 17.

Local board No. 17 last night acted upon seventeen claims for exemption. Six claims were denied, six were allowed and five were held in abeyance. Those denied were Ernest J. Brock, Congress Hotel; Percy F. Howell, No. 630 Westlake avenue; Arthur A. Hammett, No. 525 Crocker street; Virgil C. Swartz, No. 643 Kohler street; John R. Jones, No. 528 Crocker street; Mordicia Beckman, No. 210 South Flower street.

Claims allowed: Donald B. Pasley, No. 1019 Florida street; Ernest J. Ehler, No. 329 South Figueroa street; Stanley B. Meiga, No. 416 South Bonnie Brae street; Harland West, No. 921 West Fourth street; William W. Wildman, No. 227 South Figueroa, and Howard N. Evans, No. 1406 West Fourth street.

Claims held for further investigation: Isaac Scarborough, No. 540 Stanford avenue; Carl E. Collins, No. 791 Crocker street; Gilmon S. Jones, No. 409 West Third street; Walter E. Collins, No. 409 South Grand avenue, and Luther V. Hart, No. 1406 West Fourth street.

The first claim for exemption on the grounds of religious scruples came before the board last night. The matter was held in abeyance until sufficient proof is supplied as to the claimant's connection with the church prior to the announcement that this would be a ground for exemption.

This board will this morning certify to the Federal district exemption board the names of such men as are duly listed for service. It will continue to act on exemptions each evening until its vast volume of work is completed.

IN NO. 14.

The exemption board in city district No. 14 (Hollywood) granted discharges yesterday in six cases where exemption was asked for on account of dependent wives. They were: Robert C. Hutchison, No. 1540 North Berendo place; C. C. Reife, No. 6765 Franklin avenue; Russ Nibecker, No. 5843 Lexington avenue; R. V. Cairns, No. 1309 Winona avenue; W. C. Martin, No. 1818 North New Hampshire avenue; Alton Sprague, No. 1163½ North Mariposa avenue.

Aside from those mentioned no other cases were passed upon except that of O. W. Bauer of No. 4411 Finley avenue, who was exempted as being in the government service. He is employed in the Department of the Interior.

The Hollywood board certified to the district appellate board yesterday the names of forty-nine men as now eligible for service. The list comprised such as waived claim to exemption, together with three whose claims for discharge have been overruled. The board will continue to sit upon exemption claims.

IN NO. 18.

The exemption board in district No. 18 at Avenue 26 and Workman street passed upon twenty-six applications for exemption last night. Exemption was refused in the case of John A. Dallenbach of No. 119 North Avenue 22 on the ground that his wife is able to work; and in the case of Joe Mesetich of No. 1530 E. John street upon the ground that his wife has a trust income of $70 per month.

The following applicants were granted exemption from service because they have wives and children dependant upon them: Bertram V. Sanderson, No. 4223 Bernice avenue; Frank W. Jolensky, No. 1531 Marmion way; Lewis M. Davisson, No. 435 South Fremont street; Charles C. Langdale, No. 327 South Thomas street; William S. Wamsley, No. 1725 West Avenue 53; Bruce P. Beamer, No. 2818 Espara street; Charles E. Anderson, No. 5324 Pasadena avenue; Joe S. Holz, No. 314 Vista place; Charles T. Hughes, No. 4228 Latona avenue; Edward E. Beecher, No. 138 North Avenue 19; William D. Neil, No. 365 West Avenue 52; Harrison Kelley, No. 611 South Workman street; Russell B. Roberts, No. 226 West Avenue 54; Charley L. Hoskins, No. 310 South Gates street; Benjamin Meyer, No. 2341 Seymour street; Gerald A. Maxwell, No. 124 Sycamore street. Eight aliens were automatically exempted from service.

COUNTY NO. 4.

The second claim for exemption that came before county board No. 4 was that of George Reno of Redondo Beach. It was denied. Mr. Reno made the claim that his aged father is solely dependent upon him for support, but investigation made by the board showed that the father keeps house himself and that he could contribute to his father's support while in the army to the same extent, or even more, than he is contributing at the present time. The board has acted thus far upon two claims for exemption, both being denied.

IN NO. 6.

Officials of city district No. 6 yesterday tentatively passed upon forty applications for exemption. None of the affidavits will be rejected or accepted as proof of exemption, however, until the board has made a more complete personal inquiry into the claims of the affiants as to dependants.

City district No. 8 will tomorrow "post" more than twenty alleged slackers, who have not answered their call for examination or who have not satisfactorily explained their absence.

The names of these men will be certified to the United States Marshal. The alleged slackers automatically classed themselves in the same category as deserters from the United States Army when they failed to appear.

The No. 8 board yesterday issued a call for 300 more men, who will be examined on August 14 and 15.

City district No. 5 finished the physical examinations of its first quota of men Wednesday evening and yesterday began making out a list of the second call. This board will begin today to sit as an exemption board and will start physical examinations of the second quota next Monday.

Among the physically disqualified men examined by the six physicians at the headquarters in district No. 11 Thursday was a youth who was totally blind in one eye and totally deaf in one ear. Although he could see and hear well he was rejected.

The exemption board in district No. 10 has run through its list of first call men and has made its second call. In the meantime it will be handling exemption claims Friday and Saturday.

UNUSUAL RECORD.

While exemption board No. 17, at No. 627 South Olive street, is making a remarkable record in the number of men who do not claim exemption, it is also making a record for the number of men who fail to pass the physical test and in those who do not respond to the call. Yesterday fifty-four men were found physically deficient, while 131 men failed to report for examination. This is a serious matter—for the men failing to report—as their names will be posted as listed for service and also handed to the Federal District Attorney for action.

One of the peculiar incidents of yesterday's work was the mixing of the notices of Edward and Walter Seymour, twin brother. One of the brothers passed the physical test, the other failed, and it was then discovered that the man who passed was in reality the man who was listed as having failed.

The large number of men in No. 17 listed as not seeking exemption is due in a measure to the searching questioning to which each man is subjected by Robert M. Shearer, secretary of the board. Mr. Shearer asks a man if he claims exemption. He then inquires as to the grounds. When these are given he closely questions the man and in three cases out of five the man withdraws his claim and does it with a good-natured smile.

Many men who file claims later withdraw them. There are many reasons for this, but the chief reason is that the many forms required to be filled and sworn to discourage many who would otherwise seek to avoid service. Then, too, the fact that their claims are to be made public, and that their neighbors are likely to give the boards much valuable information, which they are doing, is also a deterrent.

In No. 17 not over one-third of the claims will be honored. Newlyweds have a very small chance, childless husbands are also out of luck with this board and men who claim to support their parents, but who cannot supply good and sufficient evidence of this fact are not going to receive much consideration. Filing exemption claims is useless unless the claim can be substantiated. The intervention of prominent men in the form of supporting affidavits is also useless.

OFFICIAL RULING.

The physicians of District No. 9 yesterday wired Adjt.-Gen. Borree for detailed instructions regarding physical examinations, they having been informed that in some cases, such as of flat feet, it was unnecessary to go farther. The following reply was received:

"Registrants should be given complete physical examination except in cases of glaring physical defects, such as loss of arm, when examination may be brief. Form 14, however, must in all cases be completed."

County District No. 5 will examine 147 men today. It will then call 500 more and will begin their examination probably a week from Monday.

The local exemption board for County District No. 3, including Santa Monica, Venice and Sawtelle, decided yesterday to issue another call for men today or tomorrow, the number to be 200 or more, according to the number passed in the physical test today.

DISCUSS HARBOR RATE SITUATION.

CITY WANTS GAS PRICE CUT TO THE BONE.

Southern Counties Company's Attorney Tells Municipal Officials that Thirty Cents is Least Charge that Can be Made—Engineer Opposes Fifteen-cent Plan.

The Mayor, members of the Harbor Commission, Chief Engineer Howell of the Public Utilities Board and Councilmen Farmer and Criswell conferred yesterday with Le Roy M. Edwards, representing the Southern Counties Gas Company, regarding the rate that can be made for gas for industrial plants in the harbor district, if the right-of-way franchise desired by this company is granted.

No definite decision was reached, and a further conference will be held this forenoon in the Harbor Commissioner's office.

The city officials had discussed the prospect of securing a promise of 25-cent gas for harbor industries, but Mr. Edwards stated that the company could not make a lower rate than 30 cents. He stated that it is proposed to replace mains so that the new system will give adequate service for four or five years.

It was pointed out by him that the 15-cent rate which some industrial plants get cannot apply to the harbor district. In this connection Chief Engineer Howell yesterday prepared a letter to present to the Public Utilities Board, in connection with the gas case now pending before the State Railroad Commission, in which he says:

"The conditions are as stated in this committee report, and the only point they seem to have overlooked is the fact that this 15-cent gas rate for delivery to industries outside the city is a rate that is below the cost of the service, from the fact that the wholesale rate is 14 cents at Glendale, which would leave 1 cent per thousand to cover the cost of transmission from Glendale to the works, meter reading, billing and all expenses accruing, including loss of gas in delivery. This 1 cent, as a matter of fact, would not cover the transmission losses in gas, let alone operating expenses.

"It should also be noted that this 15-cent gas from the Midway field to industries outside of the city of Los Angeles is all carried through the city of Los Angeles, and that all the losses accruing from such a rate must be paid by the domestic consumers of the city of Los Angeles."

SHERRY'S AT STAKE.

Famous New York Cafe Man is Named in Suit.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Louis Sherry, widely known restaurant proprietor, is made defendant in a suit for $2073,844, filed in the Supreme Court today by Samuel Knopf, a business expert.

Konpf's affidavit alleged that Sherry, on October 21 last agreed to sell his famous Fifth-avenue restaurant to a corporation which Knopf was to form with a capital stock of $5,000,000. Sherry, Knopf alleged, was to receive $250,000 in money and $1,000,000 in the common stock for his leases and furnishings, and preferred stock to the face value of his accounts receivable. Sherry was to be president and manager for five years at $18,000 a year. Knopf declared Sherry, before the agreement had been reduced to writing, and after he had interested associates in the company, declined to proceed further. The claim is also made by Knopf that Sherry received $116,666 yearly from his business.
